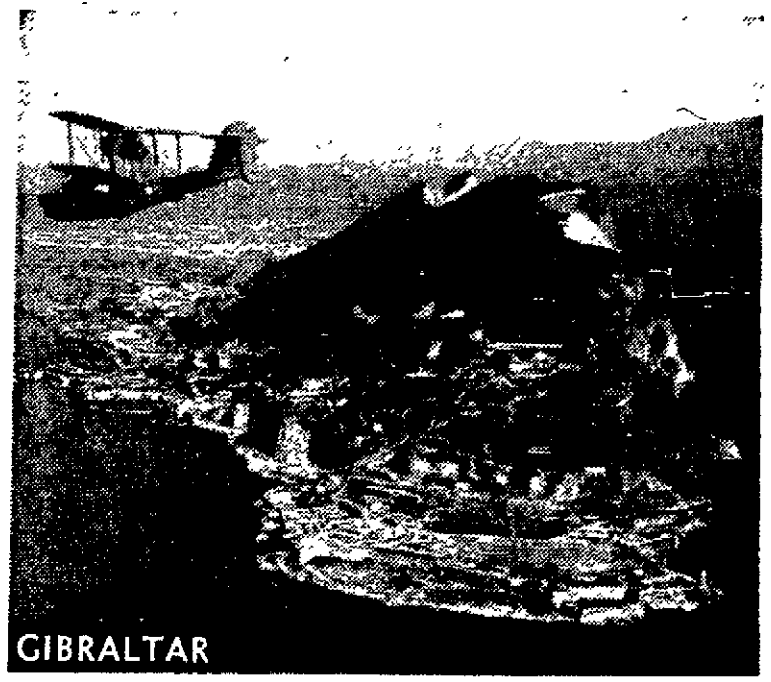
STRAITS: Question Marks

Question mark No. 1 in the European war is the English channel: Can a Nazi blitzkrieg strike across it to invade England? The precipitous chalk cliffs of Dover are natural defenses. Those shown here are called "Seven Sisters."



Will Gibraltar falter? Possession of this "Rock of Ages" at the mouth of the Mediterranean had much to do with rise of the British ~~empire; now~~ military experts point out Germany may be planning to drive across Spain and storm it.

Tells 1,000 Here That Fifth Column, Not Treachery, Caused Fall of France

Lecturer Says Perfectly Organized Program Led to Quick Collapse.

Perfectely organized fifth column activities—not treachery or desertion or disloyalty on the part of her own troops—led to the downfall of France before the nazi military machine.

That was the unqualified statement of Major Sedley Peck, former major in the French army and former ambulance corps officer in France, who spoke to more than 1,000 persons at John Simpson auditorium on "I Saw France Fall." He spoke under the auspices of the Rotary and University clubs.

Major Peck gave four outstanding examples of what he termed "magnificently organized and planned" fifth column tactics of the Germans.

First was the break-through at Sedan, which has been described by some sources as having been made possible by treachery of French troops, who failed to blow up the bridge.

"That is absolutely not true," declared Major Peck. "The bridge had been mined, barricaded and engineers were ready to detonate the mines. But just as they were about to do so, they saw some 50 French tanks, in hasty retreat toward the bridge. Hastily, French soldiers removed the barricades and the mines, to let the tanks cross.

"After the tanks had crossed, out jumped Nazi soldiers. At the same time, Nazi parachute troops arrived on the scene from behind the bridge—they had landed during the night—and the bridge was in German hands, intact."

On another occasion, Major Peck related, he was going to the front with two companions, in an ambulance. They planned to stop at Rheims for lunch. When they arrived, they found the town completely deserted. Overnight its 129,000 persons had fled.

"It developed," Major Peck said, "that the people had been ordered by the French high command that they had 15 minutes to decide whether to stay and be bombed or to flee. They fled. But that warning had come from German fifth columnists—not the French high command.

"Rheims was not bombed. The Germans had no intention of bombing it. But roads to the south were jammed with refugees. And the French troops had no possible chance of moving forward to engage the enemy.

Tells of Fake Orders to Evacuate, Artificial Fog Over Paris.

"That was a part of German strategy—to jam the roads with civilians, terrorized by bombing planes, so that the movement of the French army was paralyzed.

A third example of fifth column work enabled the Nazis to cross the Seine within 40 miles of Paris, Major Peck said.

"A thick greasy fog enveloped the city," he related. "It was not the season for fog, and no one could understand what it was. Some thought it was gas and put on gas masks. It wasn't, but it remained for 36 hours.

"Later, it was found that German fifth columnists, perfectly coordinated, had lighted smudge pots over a huge area around Paris—all at exactly the same time.

"Under cover of that fog, German troops crossed the Seine at points where no Frenchman had ever dreamed a crossing would be attempted, and on nine bridges they had brought from Germany. French troops stood guard at all the usual fords and all bridges. But by the time the fog had cleared, the German troops were behind them, and the Seine had been crossed without firing of a shot."

Biarritz, beautiful French resort town, was taken over by one company of 27 German soldiers and three officers.

"Of course, no attempt was

HITS PEACE

Survey Shows That British Disapprove Negotiation.

LONDON—(INS)—Overwhelming disapproval of any Anglo-German peace negotiations was indicated by a newspaper survey, results of which were published today.

The question asked was: "Would you approve or disapprove if the British government were to discuss peace proposals now with Germany?"

Of those questioned 77 per cent disapproved while only 13 per cent indicated approval of peace discussions. Another 10 per cent were non-committal. When the same question was asked a year ago, 29 per cent indicated approval and 61 per cent disapproval.

Gird for 'All Out' Battle On Aid Bill

Tax Wrangle Hits County, Funds Gone

Auditor Asks $50,000 as Tax Advance In Order to Pay March Bills.

With sales tax allocations for the first two months of the year tied up because of the wrangle in the Ohio legislature, Richland county commissioners today sought a $50,000 advance against the first half real estate tax collections to pay county bills.

Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said the advance would enable the county to meet its operating expenses for at least two months

He said the county, without the help of sales tax money which goes into the operating fund, is virtually "broke" and cannot meet its bills for March unless it gets the tax advance.

Distribution of sales tax money has been held up pending a decision of the legislature on the matter in which funds shall be distributed to counties, cities, and other subdivisions.

Wolfe said the county probably would have to request an advance anyway before the real estate tax money is distributed, but the delay in getting the sales tax funds made the need apparent sooner.

The county receives approximately $4,000 a month from the state as its share of sales tax collections, Wolfe said.

He anticipated no difficulty in getting the $50,000 advance from Treasurer John E. Kolb since real estate and special as-

SUPPORTERS IN SENATE READY FOR STRUGGLE

Seek To Kill Amendment That Would Ban Sending Men Abroad To Fight.

CITE SEA SURRENDER

Administration Wants Vote on Lease-Lend Next Week, 1st Concession Reported.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The administration girded itself today for an "all out" battle in the senate to kill the proposed Ellender amendment to the lease-lend bill, designed to ban a second A. E. F., on the ground that Japan and other nations might interpret it as a surrender of freedom of the seas, particularly in the Pacific.

This was made plain by Sen. George (D., Ga.), chairman of the powerful foreign relations committee, as senate leaders prepared to "put on the heat" to force a vote on the British aid bill next week.

Developments in the battle included:

1. First concession since senate floor battle indicated by administration leaders in probable acceptance of Lucas amendment providing for consultation between President Roosevelt and both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

2. Sen. Nye (R., N. D.), foe of the bill, charged supporters of the measure with avoiding real debate on the issue in the senate.

3. George charged foes with "stalling," and said that they will be resorting to filibuster if they refuse to permit a vote next midweek.

4. Administration warned that British orders will be fulfilled in 30 to 40 days and unless bill is promptly passed the British aid program will be stymied.

5. Sens. Chavez (D., N. M.) and Holman (R., Ore.), who have been classed as doubtful, announced opposition to bill in present form.

The amendment of Sen. Ellender (D., La.) which says that nothing in the bill shall be construed as authorizing sending of men outside the western hemisphere, was labelled by Majority Leader Barkley as the strongest card of the opposition. Both President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, it was learned, oppose it.

HELD TO JURY

Suspect Admits Robbery of Dairy Store Here.

Confessing to the burglary of the Isaly Dairy store on West Fourth street last Sunday, Walter Carr, colored, of 146 North Adams street, was bound over to the Richland county grand jury today.

Police said Carr admitted he broke into the store and took $60 from a cheese box where the money had been hidden. In municipal court this morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering.

Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch set bond at $200 and ordered him committed to county jail to await grand jury action.

Police said Carr cleared another suspect they had questioned in the robbery.

U. S. Busy, So He Would Take Part Of It for Mexico

MEXICO CITY—(INS)—Mexico's chamber of deputies was still excited today over a demand that this country take advantage of apparent United States preoccupation with the European war to demand cession of a section of the Texas city of San Antonio.

Deputy Jose Betancourt Perez, University of Mexico professor, demanded that the government put forward its claim to the Chamizal section of San Antonio.

He noted that 34 years ago a Canadian arbitrator had awarded Chamizal to Mexico, but that nothing ever had been done about the transfer.

MEET TODAY ON PAROLE SET-UP

State Officer Confers With Lutz on Complaint That City's 'Dumping Ground.'

William K. Mackey, general state parole officer, was in the city today to confer with Prosecutor Harold Lutz and Supt. Arthur L. Glattke of the Mansfield reformatory on the parole set-up in Richland county which Lutz criticized in a letter to Mackey last Friday.

Mackey spent most of the morning conferring with Glattke at the reformatory while Lutz was in Columbus. He was scheduled to meet with the prosecutor this afternoon.

In a reply two days ago to the prosecutor's charges that Richland county is being made a "dumping ground" for reformatory and penitentiary parolees, Mackey said that "on the average no county will receive more men on parole than it sends to penal institutions."

He adedd that if "all prosecutors had the same attitude concerning parolees, it would work a hardship on the entire parole system."

In his letter to Mackey, Lutz mentioned specifically the case of a colored reformatory inmate from Cincinnati who is seeking to be paroled to a colored woman in Mansfeild who has offered to be responsible for him.

Lutz said men from outside the county had been paroled to professed "friends" here in a number of other cases, adding to the work of city and county officers.

Mackey explained that a number of inmates of penal institutions have no relatives in their home counties and would have a much better chance to make good with relatives or friends elsewhere who will help them.

DROPS TO DEATH

Woman Plunges 22 Stories From New York Hotel.

NEW YORK—(UP)—A woman identified from a social security card as Carol June Martin of St. Louis plunged from a 22nd floor window of the Hotel Warwick early today.

The body of the attractive, red-haired woman, about 24, was found on an extension of the fourth floor of the hotel.

Miss Martin had attended a party last evening and had been resting in the room of an acquaintance on the 22nd floor. Detectives and hotel authorities questioned Carroll Sexton, 44, who said he was a salesman, and John Small, hotel bellboy, who were in the room when Miss Martin plunged through the window.

G. W. Shreffler, 93, Who Met Lincoln, Dies at Home Here

George Washington Shreffler, 93, father of Dr. Burdette E. Schreffler, died at the home of his son, 614 Bigelow road, late Tuesday afternoon, following a brief illness.

A pioneer, who could recall many interesting incidents of the earlier years, he liked to reminisce about meeting Abraham Lincoln when he was in Kankakee, Ill., when Mr. Schreffler was a boy of 10 years.

Lincoln was campaigning for a public office in that year of 1857 and it was at that time that Mr. Schreffler had the opportunity to see him.

While later serving as conductor of schools at Alma, Ill., Mr. Schreffler gave William Jennings Bryan his first chance at a teaching position. He also witnessed the great Chicago fire.

His great grandfather was a bodyguard of the first president, George Washington, and it was with great pride that he used that name for his own.

He had resided in Mansfield for the past five years. He was born in Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 15, 1847, but moved to Fremont when a boy. Before his retirement he was a general contractor.

Surviving are nine children, Dr.

Climax Long Drive Through Italian Colony

Axis Reports German Motorized Units Clash With Empire Forces In Libya As Eden Pays Visit to Capital Of Turkey.

(By Associated Press)

Striking with lightning-like rapidity, British troops were officially declared today to have captured Mogadiscio—capital and chief seaport of Italian Somaliland—after a 400-mile sweep which started from the Kenya frontier just a month ago.

The East African city fell last night, a Nairobi communique announced, making "an important step in the conquest of Italian Somaliland."

Only yesterday, the British reported their forces seized the Indian ocean port of Brava, 110 miles from Mogadiscio, in a drive up the colonial coast.

The British also announced they had taken more than 3,000 Italian prisoners in a 60-mile advance up the Juba river from Gelib, in Somaliland.

Other British troops were reported hammering at Cheren, 42 miles from Asmara, the capital of Italian Eritrea.

On the Axis side, both Rome and Berlin reported that German motorized troops clashed with British armored forces in Libya, North Africa, for the first time Monday and destroyed armored cars and took prisoners.

The Germans escaped without losses, it was asserted, in what apparently was little more than a skirmish between desert patrols 100 miles south of Bengasi.

Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden arrived in Ankara on a fence-building mission to the Turkish capital, accompanied by Gen. Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial general staff.

Tumultuously cheering crowds greeted them as they arrived aboard President Ismet Inonu's special train, and speculation immediately arose that on the outcome of their talks with Turkish leaders might hinge a British decision to send troops from Egypt to bolster Greece against a possible German invasion.

In western Europe, the sea-air war between Britain and Germany went ahead at an ever faster tempo.

The Germans said a Nazi speedboat sank a British destroyer off the southeast coast of England; German U-boats sank an 8,000-ton armed British merchant ship and a patrol boat, and Nazi planes bombed and set afire three British cargo vessels totaling 21,000 tons northwest of Ireland.

At the same time, the Germans admitted they were hav-

TURKS CHEER EDEN ARRIVAL

Break Through Police Lines to Welcome Briton, Ignore Nazi Displeasure.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(AP)—The British government said today that "all information suggests that the German preparations for an occupation of Bulgaria are now far advanced."

(By United Press)

ANKARA, Turkey — Two thousand cheering Turks broke through police lines today to welcome Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, Gen. Sir John Dill, chief of the imperial staff, and a big party of aides to the capital for conferences with Turkish leaders on political and military problems.

The cheering continued while Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu and other Turkish and foreign notables were greeting the visitors and thereby incurring a displeasure Germans showed openly.

Eden at once made an appointment to visit John Van A. McMurray, American minister to Turkey, early this afternoon.

Eden and Dill come to Turkey after conferences with British military leaders at Cairo. Eden also conferred there with Sir Reginald Hoare, British minister recalled from Bucharest when Britian broke relations with Rumania because of the German occupation.

It was expected that Eden, Dill and their aides would continue to Athens from Ankara to discuss with Greek leaders

'YA GOTTA DIE'

That's Attitude of Man Who Loses Last Appeal.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—"If you gotta die, you gotta die," observed William John Sevastis, 55, when informed that Gov. John W. Bricker had declined to prevent his electrocution in Ohio penitentiary tonight.

Sevastis will go to the chair for killing his employer, Mike Manos and two others in a shooting in the Martins Ferry restaurant where he worked as a waiter. The shooting last May 5 followed an argument over salary.

He was convicted by a three-judge court at St. Clairsville June 20 and entered the penitentiary "death row" the following month. The Ohio Supreme court upheld his conviction Feb. 13 and Devastis lost his last hope of escaping the chair when the governor denied him executive clemency.

Protests Army Methods

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

That the Army defers in most instances married draftees, whether with or without actual dependents, has not been received in silence by mothers of unmarried sons, who present another side of the question. Take this letter for instance:

"DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

"The other day I read an account of one of Mrs. Roosevelt's press conferences in which an unpublicized report was discussed. The report was written by Major Snow of National Draft Headquarters. Major Snow stated that 'the Army would much rather not have married men. The chief reason is that men with wives at home are likely not to be happy in training camps.'

"May I state the contrary view held by a widowed mother with an only son, 24 years old? I went through hell and deep water to rear my son, hold a job, do all my housework when I got home at night, to keep him in health and to give him a college education. Now, when he's standing on his own feet, he has been drafted.

"I'd like the public to consider those married couples who have no children and never intend to have any. They talk cynically about what a nuisance children are and say they wouldn't be caught with one. Many of these people—husband and wife—hold down splendid jobs in the government; for instance, I know of cases where wives have positions of $3,000 and $4,000 a year, husbands $5,000 or $6,000.

"Outside of the Government the same thing maintains: married women have jobs from $2,500 to $5,000; their husbands make $6,000 and $7,000. Their families consist of an automobile, a cherished prize dog, and a well-stocked liquor cabinet. Two or three of them actually have bars installed in their glossy apartments and surburbah cottages.' For these domiciles they have paid as much as $10,000 and $12,000.

"I ask you, Miss Fairfax, why a married man of the type I have described, whose wife has a splendid job, lives luxuriously, and absolutely without family obligations, and who declines to have children, should be exempted from the draft, while my son and the sons of other widows similarly situated, have to go?

"Rebellious American Mother."

This letter is a fair sample of a good many which have come to this column. It's the old question of the jealous fury aroused when husbands and wives both have top-notch jobs and no families or responsibilities.

No one begrudges a husband and wife both being employed when it's a question of rearing children, giving them educational advantages which one gainfully-employed parent could not give. No one is raising Cain over a wife making from $1,200 to $1,500 a year and her husband making a comparatively small salary, and these have dependents—old parents, ill or unfortunate relatives, or if the two small salaries are being pooled to buy a home.

But "righteous rage," as the less fortunate feel justified in calling it, kindles when childless married couples drawing joint salaries of $[illegible]000 to $15,000 a year, and even more, seem to be sheltered at every turn. The jobless angrily look upon such couples as a menace to democracy, and demand to know why the government should give both husband and wife two-top-notch salaries, while less-privileged people wear out shoe leather hunting for jobs. And one salary such as the favored receive will keep these "teachers' pets' in affluence.

Here's hoping that the local boards will determine intelligently all questions of Class 3, which has to do with dependency. How do you widowed mothers with sons feel about this letter?

The Kiawawa Indians of northern Mississippi were forbidden by their religion to eat meat or fish they themselves had caught. So they hired neighboring tribes to hunt for them or traded catches.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"You mustn't do that, Carolyn," I said, aghast at the prospect she was picturing. "You don't know what Ronald may do if he finds out that Marion has disappeared."

"Don't I know it?" she countered. "But what can I do. You don't know Ron the way I do. I'm his little sister you know, and he's always been able to get things out of me."

"Then he mustn't see you until after I've talked to him, and found out how much he knows — or fears," I told her. "When we get to the house," I improvised rapidly, "say that you have a very bad headache—"

"That won't be any lie," she retorted "My head is aching something fierce."

"And ask your mother to let you go to your room and lie down. Say that you can't talk to anybody until your head is better. Then lock your door, and really try to go to sleep. Ronald probably will not disturb you, but if he should knock or call to you, don't answer him. I shall be close on his trail, and shall tell your mother that you really are in a bad way nervously, and ought to have a chance to sleep for a while. And that will not be a falsehood, either."

"I'll tell the world it won't," Carolyn agreed fervently.

"Then that's settled," I said. "Is there anything else you'd like to ask me before Uncle Dicky comes back? He's pretty angry at you, Carolyn, but he will help you if you need it, I can guarantee that."

"I won't need help, if I can be let alone," she replied, and then she put a question I had been expecting.

"When I get back to Weirhampton," she said and stopped uncertainly.

"Yes?" I prodded.

"Are you going to have me watched and followed?"

Thankful indeed was I that Dicky as yet had given me no part in the plans he had been making to cast Carolyn in the role of the "goat staked out to catch the tiger."

"No, indeed," I told her promptly. "I never thought of such a thing."

"Is Uncle Dicky?"

"You'll have to ask him that, Carolyn," I told her smoothly. 'But I don't think he has had time to make any plans. Remember he didn't dream you needed trailing until this last performance of yours. And this has come too swiftly for the making of any plans."

"It didn't come too fast for him to get those police," she argued.

"That was because he was afraid you would get away from us, and we felt responsible for you to your people. After all, as he told you, what we want is to find out about Marion. You either cannot or will not tell us anything about her—"

"It isn't 'will not'," she flashed out. "I don't know anything about her; nothing at all, I tell you."

"We have no concern whatever about you, once we get you safely back to Weirhampton," I went on, ignoring her outburst as if she had not spoken "Then the college authorities and your parents will be responsible for you, and we shall have no anxiety about you."

"I should think" she said, and I knew that she had logic on her side, "that once I reached home, my family would be responsible for getting me back again."

"I don't think you quite understand Uncle Dicky's position," I said, casting wildly about for some argument which would have some appearance of truth. "He, and not your parents, is responsible for this particular trip home of yours. During it you have been subjected to grave peril."

"He was only guessing that," she said defensively.

"You know very well he was not guessing," I told her severely. "At any rate that is the reason he intends to take you back to the college himself. He feels in honor bound to deliver you there safely."

"Aren't you going along?" she asked.

Unless you understand the meaning of your opponents' bids, you cannot even play some of the hands correctly. West led his diamond K. North played the A and East trumped it. He then took two hearts and returned a third, to avoid leading into the clubs. South tried to figure out how to avoid being set, but could not do it. He had already lost three tricks, and could not avoid the loss of another in diamonds, so was down one.

After the hand he explained that he thought West's 3-Diamond bid indicated an absolutely solid six-card suit, with a sure side entry, something he had read about in somebody's book. West, however, was using the only kind of original suit bid of three ever used by nine-tenths of the top-ranking players—showing a worthless hand without even an ace in it in the bid suit, and not even a king in a side suit—to crowd strong opponents. When South saw the dummy, containing the diamond A, he should have reckoned West's suit as surely being at least seven cards long, and East therefore void.

He had a sure safety play. Merely let West win the first and second diamond tricks, then be prepared to ruff or overruff the third. He could later use the diamond A, after trumps were out, for the discard of one of his own hearts. Thus he could cut his losers to two in diamonds and one in hearts and make his contract.

Tomorrow's Problem.

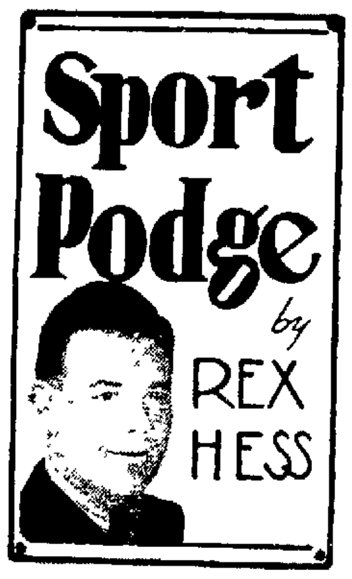
Westinghouse, Club Billiards Eliminated From Race



Sport Podge

by REX HESS

That Butler-Bellville feud, highlighting tomorrow night's county hoop tournament at Mansfield high gym, is no joke. It's a FEUD!

If the two teams remember to play basketball, the favored Butler Bulldogs should win, even with their present sick list, so my county operatives inform me.

But if the fracas turns into a scrambolio, and don't be surprised if it does, then anything can happen. And I ain't kiddin'! I mean ANYTHING!

Butler fans are still smarting under two terrific gridiron defeats in the last two seasons, and they weren't too happy when the Blue Jays handed them a cage upset this winter.

So, when Butler had to change (horseless) coaches in the middle of the bucketball stream this season, the fans wanted to know what kind of a guy they were getting for their new mentor.

Coach Merrill Hall tells the story: "The first thing they asked me," he relates, "was 'what kind of a coach are you? Do you pile up the score or do you give your subs a chance when you get ahead?' "

"I told 'em I didn't like to take a chance on losing, but if the score was right I liked to give my reserves some experience.

" 'Well, we don't care what you do against other teams,' they retorted, 'but when you play Bellville, POUR IT ON!' "

* * *

And what does "Smiley" Miley, coach of the Bellville bucket brigade, think of that?

"They won't do any pouring on tomorrow night," he predicts. "Why, with one and maybe two of their best players out because of illness, they'll be lucky to win. If they win.

"It's no secret. We'd rather lose to any team in the county than Butler, and we'd rather beat Butler than any team in the county. And the boys will be going in there tomorrow night with the proper spirit. No foolin'!"

Spring, spring, gentle, gentle spring! Comes a harbinger from way down in Brownsville, Tex., a letter from Irish McGee, saying he'll be starting back home about March 15 to prepare for the opening of Possum Run golf course.

The Mansfield pro has been spending the winter as pro at the Brownsville Country club, and not only says he's been enjoying the weather but rubs it in. "We've had only one light frost," he reports.

Mister, you're digging divots in my good nature. 'Tain't funny, McGee!

I don't see any spring ditties in this weather we're having.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your coal pile grow? Lesser and lesser?

You and me both, sister.

The Coach Paul Snyders have a kitten and a white rabbit as pets for their two young daughters.

The kitten and the rabbit live happily together in the basement of the Snyder home where the rabbit prefers to spend most of its time in the coal bin.

Correction: The Snyders did have a white rabbit. It's just run-of-mine now.

FIREMEN WORKING OVER ANDERSON

Although physicians expressed the opinion that he was a victim of a heart attack, the death of Heavyweight Boxer Arne Anderson of Minneapolis, following a knockout in a bout in Chicago with Lou Thomas of Indianapolis, was being investigated by authorities. Anderson was dropped by a short right to the chin in the seventh round of a 10-round bout. He failed to revive and a fire department inhalator squad was called.

Frankie Baumholtz Chalks Up 29 Points In College Finale

(By Associated Press)

Sharp-shooting Frankie Baumholtz and five teammates who helped make Ohio University a power in the Buckeye basketball realm for three years are going to be missed at the Athens school when another season rolls around.

* * *

Those half dozen cagers, known at Ohio U. as the "Big Six," played their final collegiate game last night, turning in a sparkling exhibition in downing Dayton, 72 to 47, for their 19th victory in 22 starts this season.

* * *

Baumholtz alone counted 29 points, his highest single-game total, to run his scoring to 340 for the season and 1042 for three years. Playing at various times during the contest were the five who started out with him as sophomores—Forward Deinzer, Center Blick and Guards Ott, Mosherry and Snyder. During their three years, Ohio University teams have averaged more than 1,000 points a season.

Four Ohio conference contests were played last night, Wittenberg defeating Findlay, 58 to 49, to slip ahead of Ohio Northern near the top of the league standings; Muskingum routing Marietta, 67 to 49; Bowling Green downing Heidelberg, 45 to 30, and Ashland besting Kent State 47 to 34.

Western State (Mich) Teachers fared badly at Cincinnati where Xavier handed them a 50-45 lacing and Youngstown made a 74-58 conquest in an invasion of Theil at Greenville, Pa. Bluffton invaded Tri-State at Angola, Ind., to take a 44-32 pasting and De Sales lost a heartbreaker at Assumption (Mich) by a single point, 60-59.

Games tonight: Youngstown at Hiram, John Carroll at Mt. Union and Kenyon at Defiance.

CARBETTA IDLE

Mansfield's Paul Carbetta took a rest last night from mid-west Golden Gloves warfare at Chicago after winning two bouts Monday night. Little fellows were on the Monday night card, and heavier mitt slingers appeared Tuesday. Both classes go back for quarter-final bouts tonight.

Grudge Battle Booked

Carbetta Wants Revenge For Waddell Lacing By Toledo Fighter.

Top bout on the British war relief fund benefit boxing card Monday night at the armory between Mansfield's Paul Carbetta and Toledo's cocky little Frankie Girard, now looms as a grudge battle of the first water. There'll be no charity when these fast little flyweights tangle.

It seems these two boys challenged each other recently at Fremont and their Mansfield booking was a natural result of the heated words they exchanged at that time.

Carbetta went along to see his stablemate, Leonard Waddell, defeated by Girard in a feature bout at Fremont, and immediately challenged the Toledoan in the hope of gaining revenge.

"I don't care if you are Cleveland Golden Gloves king," responded Girard, veteran of 45 fights and Toledo champion for two years, "I'll take care of you the same way I did Waddell.

And Friendly House ringsiders report he really took care of Waddell, as he should with all that edge in experience.

Only one bout, for Frankie Lee, remains to be booked for the Mansfield card.

Carbetta and Girard battle in the top five-rounder, and Al Sauers, district 175-pound champ, takes on Arnold Bondy, Monroe, Mich., veteran in the other five-heater.

Three-round bouts are listed as follows: Joe Sauers, 150, vs. John Ouskey, 148, Toledo; Leonard Waddell, 115, vs. Marvin Moreland, 115, Toledo: Frank Truly, 135, vs. Carl Eichenbrecker, Fremont; Mike Sauers, 135, vs. Kenny Leiter, Fremont: Bob Garber, 147, vs. Ed Cook, Fremont; and Bob Emerson, 135, vs. Ed Laubert, Fremont.

A curtain raiser between two ambitious but inexperienced youngsters also may be added to the card.

The usual pass list will be suspended for the charity show, Russ Gimbel of Friendly House announced today. "We feel that if the boys can donate their services, the fans should be willing to pay their share toward the relief fund," Gimbel declared.

Officials also will be donating their services, including Referees Jack Hamilton and John Eichinger, and Judges Paul Elliott, George Allerding and Gyp Miller.

These additional places where tickets may be purchased were announced today by Gimbel: Saratoga, Tawse's, Central Drug, Ohio Brass, Westinghouse, Mansfield Tire, Empire Steel and British Relief commission members.

Mansfielder Disqualified

NATE ROBINSON

Robinson, former Mansfield C. C. C. camp puncher, who won the Mansfield district welterweight championship only to lose in Cleveland Golden Gloves tournament, was disqualified in the Chicago mid-west Golden Gloves last night at a South Bend, Ind., entry. After leaving Mansfield, Robinson won the South Bend Golden Gloves title. He was headed toward the ring, with gloves on last night, when tournament officials ruled him out on the grounds that tourney entries could not attempt to qualify from two different Golden Gloves tournaments.

Tygers Prep for Grudge Tilt With Canton McKinley Friday

A determined bunch of Tyger pill tossers are working out at the high school gym this week preparing for their grudge tilt Friday night against a bucketball team that ranks as one of the best in Ohio—Canton McKinley.

Early in the season Coach Vern Hoffman's hoopsters were in the throes of a long and painful losing streak, the Tygers were held bucketless throughout the entire last half of a 23-50 game at Canton.

A trio of free tosses in the third period, and the same number in the fourth canto were all the points the Tygers were able to score in the humiliating defeat.

They didn't do so bad in the early going, being outscored just four points in each of the first two quarters as Canton took a 12-8 lead in the opening stanza and boosted it to 25-17 at the half.

Then came the long dry spell for the Tygers as Canton romped to a 35-20 lead in the third period, and boosted the ante to 50-23 in the final heat.

* * *

Coleman, McKinley forward, led the scoring parade with six buckets and four free shots for 16 points. Carnes, guard, got four buckets, Gensley, forward, three, and Hooper, guard, three and two. Garver, sub forward, is six-foot, 5 inches tall, and Coleman 6-foot, 4-inches.

Athletics Gain Clear Hold on First Place

Score Third Straight Victory in League Without Defeat

WESTINGHOUSE and Club Billiards were eliminated from second-half play in the City A bucket loop last night under the "two defeats and you're out" tournament rule.

Billiards were defeated by Ohio Seamless Tube 28-40 and Westinghouse lost to Blue Goose Sohioans 29-42.

A last quarter rally won for the Athletics with Lewis and Morgan sparking the offense, and Shelby and Prion closing up the defense.

Yunckers' ball handling was a bright spot of the game, but wasn't quite good enough to break through the Athletics' defense in the late going. Brandon was outstanding on both offense and defense, and Hardin and Boyd starred in the floor play.

Three free throws furnished all the scoring in the first quarter of the Billiard-Shelby game and the Club led 2-1, but Seamless Tube got going in the second stanza to take an 11-9 lead at the half, and was never headed, piling up a 27-18 margin at the third quarter.

* * *

Irey and Lehman starred on offense for Shelby and Tolles and Swisher looked best for the Billiards.

Westinghouse gained a 5-4 first quarter edge on Blue Goose, but was outscored 16-14 in the second period to trail 19-20 at the half. Sohioans upped the margin to 35-25 at the third quarter mark.

Stichler's under-basket work sparked the third quarter rally of Blue Goose while Wilkins and Talmage sparkled on defense. Shade and Poole were the offensive stars for Westinghoue, and Hummel looked good on defense.

Whippets Prep For Bucyrus

Chance at Title Tie Hangs on Contest.

SHELBY—Shelby Whippets will play their last regular cage game Friday at Bucyrus, and will be out for their seventh North Central Ohio League win and a chance to tie Bucyrus and Marion Harding for the conference championship.

Bucyrus leads the league with seven wins and two defeats. Harding is next with six wins and two losses. Shelby has won six games out of nine for third place honors.

If the Whippets defeat Bucyrus, it would leave Marion the only team in the league with only two defeats. Harding may receive an upset Friday night when they play Mount Vernon, or in a postponed game March 3 with Ashland at Delaware.

Besides the Mount Vernon-Marion Harding game, Ashland will play Galion this week in a league game while Shelby is playing Bucyrus.

GAMES PLAYED IN SENIOR CHURCH LOOP

The Lutheran five edged South Main cagers 18 to 17; St. John's took the Congregational quintet 30 to 12; Baptists defeated Presbyterians 29 to 25; and Catholic Foresters took St. Paul's five for a 33-25 victory as the Senior Church league battled in bucketball on the Y. M. C. A. hardwood yesterday.

Russell, St. John's guard, made 15, highest individual score of the four games.

MARKET TRIES EXTENSION OF UPWARD TREND

Stocks, Commodities Hold To Previous Gains; Priority Pinches Reported.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market tried to extend its recovery today but encountered some difficulty.

Clinging to modest gains were Douglas Aircraft, International Harvester, American Smelting, United Aircraft, General Electric, Chrysler and American telephone.

Commodities generally held previous gains. A London break in tin was an exception. Rail bonds pointed higher.

Further improvement in railroad finances was shown in January reports of operating income. Sustained industrial activity again was evident in weekly electric power consumption figures.

Priority control over aluminum, machine tools and voluntary rationing of other strategic supplies to give defense requirements the right-of-way brought more reports from trade quarters of pinches in raw materials for non-defense manufacturing.

SHIP Santa Fe

The Little Man Who's Always There!

That Indian sitting on his travois [or drag] has two things in common with a lot of freight shippers! — His transportation method is behind the times, and he doesn't know it! ... Ever stop to think that your own freight traffic service may be only second best or third best, according to modern standard — to Santa Fe standards? ... Take the little man's advice: Be sure you're getting the best in SPEED, SERVICE, DEPENDABILITY — [with a lot of extra convenience, besides!] ... Call

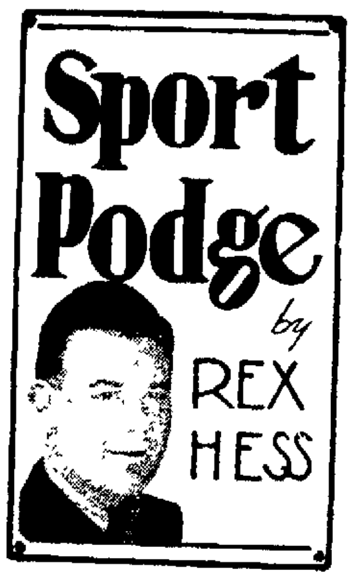
Westinghouse, Club Billiards Eliminated From Race



That Butler-Bellville feud, highlighting tomorrow night's county hoop tournament at Mansfield high gym, is no joke. It's a FEUD!

If the two teams remember to play basketball, the favored Butler Bulldogs should win, even with their present sick list, so my county operatives inform me.

But if the fracas turns into a scrambolio, and don't be surprised if it does, then anything can happen. And I ain't kiddin'! I mean ANYTHING!

Butler fans are still smarting under two terrific gridiron defeats in the last two seasons, and they weren't too happy when the Blue Jays handed them a cage upset this winter.

So, when Butler had to change (horseless) coaches in the middle of the bucketball stream this season, the fans wanted to know what kind of a guy they were getting for their new mentor.

Coach Merrill Hall tells the story: "The first thing they asked me," he relates, "was 'what kind of a coach are you? Do you pile up the score or do you give your subs a chance when you get ahead?'"

"I told 'em I didn't like to take a chance on losing, but if the score was right I liked to give my reserves some experience.

"'Well, we don't care what you do against other teams,' they retorted, 'but when you play Bellville, POUR IT ON!'"

* * *

And what does "Smiley" Miley, coach of the Bellville bucket brigade, think of that?

"They won't do any pouring on tomorrow night," he predicts. "Why, with one and maybe two of their best players out because of illness, they'll be lucky to win. If they win.

"It's no secret. We'd rather lose to any team in the county than Butler, and we'd rather beat Butler than any team in the county. And the boys will be going in there tomorrow night with the proper spirit. No foolin'!"

Spring, spring, gentle, gentle spring! Comes a harbinger from way down in Brownsville, Tex., a letter from Irish McGee, saying he'll be starting back home about March 15 to prepare for the opening of Possum Run golf course.

The Mansfield pro has been spending the winter as pro at the Brownsville Country club, and not only says he's been enjoying the weather but rubs it in. "We've had only one light frost," he reports.

Mister, you're digging divots in my good nature. 'Tain't funny, McGee!

I don't see any spring ditties in this weather we're having.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary, how does your coal pile grow? Lesser and lesser?

You and me both, sister.

The Coach Paul Snyders have a kitten and a white rabbit as pets for their two young daughters.

The kitten and the rabbit live happily together in the basement of the Snyder home where the rabbit prefers to spend most of its time in the coal bin.

Correction: The Snyders did have a white rabbit. It's just run-of-mine now.

FIREMEN WORKING OVER ANDERSON

Although physicians expressed the opinion that he was a victim of a heart attack, the death of Heavyweight Boxer Arne Anderson of Minneapolis, following a knockout in a bout in Chicago with Lou Thomas of Indianapolis, was being investigated by authorities. Anderson was dropped by a short right to the chin in the seventh round of a 10-round bout. He failed to revive and a fire department inhalator squad was called.

Frankie Baumholtz Chalks Up 29 Points In College Finale

(By Associated Press)

Sharp-shooting Frankie Baumholtz and five teammates who helped make Ohio University a power in the Buckeye basketball realm for three years are going to be missed at the Athens school when another season rolls around.

* * *

Those half dozen cagers, known at Ohio U. as the "Big Six," played their final collegiate game last night, turning in a sparkling exhibition in downing Dayton, 72 to 47, for their 19th victory in 22 starts this season.

* * *

Baumholtz alone counted 29 points, his highest single-game total, to run his scoring to 340 for the season and 1042 for three years. Playing at various times during the contest were the five who started out with him as sophomores—Forward Deinzer, Center Blick and Guards Ott, Mosberry and Snyder. During their three years, Ohio University teams have averaged more than 1,000 points a season.

* * *

Four Ohio conference contests were played last night, Wittenberg defeating Findlay, 58 to 49, to slip ahead of Ohio Northern near the top of the league standings; Muskingum routing Marietta, 67 to 49; Bowling Green downing Heidelberg, 45 to 30, and Ashland besting Kent State 47 to 34.

* * *

Western State (Mich) Teachers fared badly at Cincinnati where Xavier handed them a 50-45 lacing and Youngstown made a 74-58 conquest in an invasion of Theil at Greenville, Pa. Bluffton invaded Tri-State at Angola, Ind., to take a 44-32 pasting and De Sales lost a heartbreaker at Assumption (Mich) by a single point, 60-59.

Games tonight: Youngstown at Hiram, John Carroll at Mt. Union and Kenyon at Defiance.

CARBETTA IDLE

Mansfield's Paul Carbetta took a rest last night from mid-west Golden Gloves warfare at Chicago after winning two bouts Monday night. Little fellows were on the Monday night card, and heavier mitt slingers appeared Tuesday. Both classes go back for quarter-final bouts tonight.

RED BIRDS, INDIANS WIN OPTIMIST TILTS

Grudge Battle Booked

Carbetta Wants Revenge For Waddell Lacing By Toledo Fighter.

Top bout on the British war relief fund benefit boxing card Monday night at the armory between Mansfield's Paul Carbetta and Toledo's cocky little Frankie Girard, now looms as a grudge battle of the first water. There'll be no charity when these fast little flyweights tangle.

It seems these two boys challenged each other recently at Fremont and their Mansfield booking was a natural result of the heated words they exchanged at that time.

Carbetta went along to see his stablemate, Leonard Waddell, defeated by Girard in a feature bout at Fremont, and immediately challenged the Toledoan in the hope of gaining revenge.

"I don't care if you are Cleveland Golden Gloves king," responded Girard, veteran of 45 fights and Toledo champion for two years, "I'll take care of you the same way I did Waddell.

And Friendly House ringsiders report he really took care of Waddell, as he should with all that edge in experience.

Only one bout, for Frankie Lee, remains to be booked for the Mansfield card.

Carbetta and Girard battle in the top five-rounder, and Al Sauers, district 175-pound champ, takes on Arnold Bondy, Monroe, Mich., veteran in the other five-heater.

* * *

Three-round bouts are listed as follows: Joe Sauers, 150, vs. John Ouskey, 148, Toledo; Leonard Waddell, 115, vs. Marvin Moreland, 115, Toledo; Frank Truly, 135, vs. Carl Eichenbrecker, Fremont; Mike Sauers, 135, vs. Kenny Leiter, Fremont; Bob Garber, 147, vs. Ed Cook, Fremont; and Bob Emerson, 135, vs. Ed Laubert, Fremont.

A curtain raiser between two ambitious but inexperienced youngsters also may be added to the card.

The usual pass list will be suspended for the charity show, Russ Gimbel of Friendly House announced today. "We feel that if the boys can donate their services, the fans should be willing to pay their share toward the relief fund," Gimbel declared.

Officials also will be donating their services, including Referees Jack Hamilton and John Eichinger, and Judges Paul Elliott, George Allerding and Gyp Miller.

These additional places where tickets may be purchased were announced today by Gimbel: Saratoga, Tawse's, Central Drug, Ohio Brass, Westinghouse, Mansfield Tire, Empire Steel and British Relief commission members.

Mansfielder Disqualified

NATE ROBINSON

Robinson, former Mansfield C. C. C. camp puncher, who won the Mansfield district welterweight championship only to lose in Cleveland Golden Gloves tournament, was disqualified in the Chicago mid-west Golden Gloves last night at a South Bend, Ind., entry. After leaving Mansfield, Robinson won the South Bend Golden Gloves title. He was headed toward the ring, with gloves on last night, when tournament officials ruled him out on the grounds that tourney entries could not attempt to qualify from two different Golden Gloves tournaments.

Tygers Prep for Grudge Tilt With Canton McKinley Friday

A determined bunch of Tyger pill tossers are working out at the high school gym this week preparing for their grudge tilt Friday night against a bucketball team that ranks as one of the best in Ohio—Canton McKinley.

Early in the season Coach Vern Hoffman's hoopsters were in the throes of a long and painful losing streak, the Tygers were held bucketless throughout the entire last half of a 23-50 game at Canton.

* * *

A trio of free tosses in the third period, and the same number in the fourth canto were all the points the Tygers were able to score in the humiliating defeat.

They didn't do so bad in the early going, being outscored just four points in each of the first two quarters as Canton took a 12-8 lead in the opening stanza and boosted it to 25-17 at the half.

Then came the long dry spell for the Tygers as Canton romped to a 35-20 lead in the third period, and boosted the ante to 50-23 in the final heat.

* * *

Coleman, McKinley forward, led the scoring parade with six buckets and four free shots for 16 points. Carnes, guard, got four buckets, Gensley, forward, three, and Hooper, guard, three and two. Garver, sub forward, is six-foot, 5 inches tall, and Coleman 6-foot, 4-inches.

GAMES PLAYED IN SENIOR CHURCH LOOP

The Lutheran five edged South Main cagers 18 to 17; St. John's took the Congregational quintet 30 to 12; Baptists defeated Presbyterians 29 to 25; and Catholic Foresters took St. Paul's five for a 33-25 victory as the Senior Church league battled in bucketball on the Y. M. C. A. hardwood yesterday.

Russell, St. John's guard, made 15, highest individual score of the four games.

Score Third Straight Victory in League Without Defeat

WESTINGHOUSE and Club Billiards were eliminated from second-half play in the City A bucket loop last night under the "two defeats and you're out" tournament rule.

Billiards were defeated by Ohio Seamless Tube 28-40 and Westinghouse lost to Blue Goose Sohioans 29-42.

A last quarter rally won for the Athletics with Lewis and Morgan sparking the offense, and Shelby and Prion closing up the defense.

Yunckers' ball handling was a bright spot of the game, but wasn't quite good enough to break through the Athletics' defense in the late going. Brandon was outstanding on both offense and defense, and Hardin and Boyd starred in the floor play.

Three free throws furnished all the scoring in the first quarter of the Billiard-Shelby game and the Club led 2-1, but Seamless Tube got going in the second stanza to take an 11-9 lead at the half, and was never headed, piling up a 27-18 margin at the third quarter.

* * *

Irey and Lehman starred on offense for Shelby and Tolles and Swisher looked best for the Billiards.

Westinghouse gained a 5-4 first quarter edge on Blue Goose, but was outscored 16-14 in the second period to trail 19-20 at the half. Sohioans upped the margin to 35-25 at the third quarter mark.

Stichler's under-basket work sparked the third quarter rally of Blue Goose while Wilkins and Talmage sparkled on defense. Shade and Poole were the offensive stars for Westinghoue, and Hummel looked good on defense.

Whippets Prep For Bucyrus

Chance at Title Tie Hangs on Contest.

SHELBY—Shelby Whippets will play their last regular cage game Friday at Bucyrus, and will be out for their seventh North Central Ohio League win and a chance to tie Bucyrus and Marion Harding for the conference championship.

Bucyrus leads the league with seven wins and two defeats. Harding is next with six wins and two losses. Shelby has won six games out of nine for third place honors.

If the Whippets defeat Bucyrus, it would leave Marion the only team in the league with only two defeats. Harding may receive an upset Friday night when they play Mount Vernon, or in a postponed game March 3 with Ashland at Delaware.

* * *

Besides the Mount Vernon-Marion Harding game, Ashland will play Galion this week in a league game while Shelby is playing Bucyrus.

Last Night's Bowling Scores

Bill Fenn led the Mansfield Tire league last night with 202-200-173—575 and John Keck turned in high game of 206. Main Office No. 1 copped team honors with 834-789,794—2,117. The 834 was high game for the loop.

* * *

George Camp set the pace in the O. P. S. alley loop with 144-215-155—514 and Beckman rolled high game of 221. Production turned in high total of 2,247 and Engineering scored high game of 778.

* * *

In the Transfer league Bob Calwell led the way with 185-185-186—556 for one of the most consistent strings rolled this winter on the Meder alleys. Tubby Wintersteen rolled high game of 226. Globe Steel won team honors with 833-952-870—2,655, and the 952 was high game for the league.

G. Pierce with 348 and J. Pierce with 519 turned in high score of 867 in mixed doubles.

MARKET TRIES EXTENSION OF UPWARD TREND

Stocks, Commodities Hold To Previous Gains; Priority Pinches Reported.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market tried to extend its recovery today but encountered some difficulty.

Clinging to modest gains were Douglas Aircraft, International Harvester, American Smelting, United Aircraft, General Electric, Chrysler and American telephone.

Commodities generally held previous gains. A London break in tin was an exception. Rail bonds pointed higher.

Further improvement in railroad finances was shown in January reports of operating income. Sustained industrial activity again was evident in weekly electric power consumption figures.

Priority control over aluminum, machine tools and voluntary rationing of other strategic supplies to give defense requirements the right-of-way brought more reports from trade quarters of pinches in raw materials for non-defense manufacturing.

COW GENEROUS WITH HER MILK

COLUMBUS—(AP)—More than 2,700 "bottle-feet" of milk were produced in a year by an eight-year-old registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Ohio State university.

The production of this cow, Firestone Patriarch Johanna, in the 365 days would fill a row of quart milk bottles more than 2,700 feet long, university dairyists said. As officially recorded in the Holstein-Friesian herd improvement register, "Johanna" produced 721.1 pounds of butterfat from 18,365 pounds of milk. She was milked three times daily.

DIES WHILE ON FLORIDA VISIT

Mrs. Mary Stotts Johnson of Willard Had Been Ill 10 Days.

WILLARD — Mrs. Mary Stotts Johnson, 68, died Tuesday evening, at the Halifax hospital, Daytona Beach, Fla., following an illness of 10 days. She and her husband, Emerson, well known resident of Willard, left early in December to spend the winter at Coronado Beach, Fla.

Surviving are her husband, a daughter. Miss Leola, a teacher at the Willard junior high school, a sister, Mrs. Frank Sheron of Cleveland, two brothers, George Stotts of Huron, and Charles Stotts of Willard.

The body will be sent to Willard, but funeral arrangements are still incomplete.

Both the Eagle, first daily newspaper in Brooklyn, and the New York Tribune, started by Horace Greeley, began publication 100 years ago.

CITY PURCHASES FIRE EQUIPMENT

Takes High of Three Bids on Fire Hose, Second High on New Truck.

The city board of control today announced the award of two contracts for the purchase of equipment to bolster Mansfield's fire fighting apparatus.

The board accepted the highest of three bids on the purchase of 900 feet of fire hose, and accepted the second highest of three bids on the purchase of a new truck for the electrical division of the fire department.

The proposals were opened last week by the board which is comprised of Mayor William J. Locke and Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton.

Locke said the contract for delivery of a new truck for the electrical division was awarded to Colby and Earick agency on the firm's bid of $848. This was $48 higher than the lowest bid submitted by the G. L. Rogers International Truck agency. The Mohican Chevrolet proposed a net price of $853 on the equipment.

Contract for the purchase of the fire hose went to the Fabric Fire Hose company, Columbus, on the firm's bid of $990, which was $219 higher than the lowest bid submitted by the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company, Mansfield, whose price was $771. The Youngstown Rubber Products company proposed a price of $945, or $45 lower than the Fabric Hose company.

Admit 'Strawberry Blonds' Free for Ohio Theater Film

The first 25 "strawberry blonds" attending the opening show of "Strawberry Blond" at the Ohio Saturday afternoon will be admitted free through the courtesy of The Mansfield News-Journal.

There seems to be much controversy over when a blond is the strawberry coloring, but according to Hollywood make-up artists the type is a cross between golden and red. Rita Hayworth, raven-haired Spanish girl, who plays one of the title roles in this picture starring James Cagney, changed her hair coloring for this picture. The effect is "strawberry."

This lively comedy, packed with humor and romance of a boy who loses the girl he loves to a successful business man and and marries another girl in his attempt to forget the first, was written by J. J. and P. G. Epstein. It was taken from a play by James Hagan.

Olivia de Havilland is the other woman in his life, whom he marries on the rebound. The story is told in flashback style. Throughout it all is sprinkled the charm of the Gay Nineties-old songs, sayings and customs.

ASKS $35,456 IN DEATH SUIT

Widow of Accident Victim Sues Driver, Claiming He Was Negligent.

A suit for $35,456 damages for the death of Reuben E. Moon of Cass township in a traffic accident last Nov. 2 in northern Richland county had been filed today in common pleas court by the widow, Mrs. Jessie F. Moon.

The action is against Elden McQuate of near Shelby, driver of an automobile which figured in the crash in which Moon was fatally injured.

Mrs. Moon contends in her petition that McQuate was negligent in driving across the intersection of the Bowman Street road and the Shelby-Ganges road east of Shelby. Moon's car was hurled 40 feet against a fence, the petition states. Moon suffered a skull fracture and died two days later in Shelby Memorial hospital.

Moon was the father of five children from seven to 20 years old, all of whom were dependents, Mrs. Moon's petition says. Atty. George W. Biddle is her attorney.

WAS NERVOUS, RUNDOWN FOR YEARS

"I Suffered From Indigestion, Gas In My Stomach, Sourness, Dizziness and Nervousness, Was Bilious Due to Constipation."

"Nobody will ever know the suffering I went through," according to Mrs. H. Arehart, young mother and housewife, Huise St., Sabina, Ohio. "For years I was weak and rundown, my nerves were unsettled which made me toss and roll all night long, at the least excitement I would faint away. After my first child came I was so tired and listless everything seemed to go wrong. It seemed like nothing I ate would agree with me, the food would sour and bloat me up and put me to so much pain and I kept having such terrible sick headaches due to the condition of my stomach. I was constipated as most young mothers are and there seemed to me nothing that would give me complete relief. But finally I got Jolo and it had a wonderful action on my stomach organs clearing out the gas and bloating. I don't have the bilious spells like I had before and the headaches are a thing of the past. Jolo relieved my constipation and all my other troubles passed away. I advise anyone suffering like I do to get Jolo at once."

MRS. H. AREHART

Jolo contains natural alkalines for the stomach and blood, this makes it a double action remedy that brings amazing relief from suffering. Jolo gives quick relief from stomach troubles, nervousness and indigestion—get a bottle today—and get prompt relief.

BRITISH SEIZE SOMALI CAPITAL IN BIG DRIVE

ing trouble in conquered Netherlands territory. Strikes and riots in Amsterdam led Nazi authorities to impose military control over north Holland "in view of the present political situation." Marching, meetings and demonstrations were prohibited.

British RAF bombers, escorted by waves of fighting planes, roared across the channel in British sunlight today—headed for such areas as Dunkerque, Boulogne, Calais and Cap Griz Nez, France—after RAF night raiders had smashed at industrial targets in the Ruhr and airdromes in France.

Of the night raids, "separate attacks were also made on the invasion ports of Boulogne, Dunkerque and Calais," a London air ministry communique said.

Hitler's high command said German night raiders bombed the ports of Hull, Harwich and Great Yarmouth, attacked airports in east England and armament factories at Ipswich and Norwich.

How far Turkey is willing to go in collaborating with Britain has been a matter of conjecture in the light of recent developments, but the warm welcome accorded Eden was regarded significant.

Although Greece has been at war nearly four months, she still apparently worries British officialdom because of her reported refusal to accept British troops on her soil. This stand presumably is based upon a desire to avoid any direct affront to Germany, though Greece has said she would continue to fight until the last Italian was driven out of Albania.

The RAF, however, has been giving active aid to the Greeks, said to be challenging the Italians for mastery of the air.

If Britain abstains from carrying the war to southeastern Europe, it is expected in some quarters that she will resume her North African offensive with a thrust at Tripoli. Capture of that Libyan stronghold would give her a junction with the inactive French forces in Africa under Gen. Maxime Weygand.

Domei, Japanese news agency, quoted the newspaper Kokumin, which is closely connected with the Japanese army, as saying that "peace in the Far East hinges" on the responses of French Indo-China and Thailand (Siam) to Japan's proposals for ending their conflict.

"It is understood that appropriate Japanese measures will be unavoidable, depending on the character of the replies," Kokumin said.

Japs Will Back Thai Demands

TOKYO—(U.P.)—Japan has decided to back Thailand demands for sweeping territorial concessions from French Indo-China despite statements by France that it would fight rather than yield to harsh peace terms, it was indicated today.

At the same time it was disclosed that the government had adopted a new policy regarding future "economic" relations with Thailand.

Apparently in an attempt to bring swiftly to a close the Thail-and-French Indo-China peace negotiations in which it is acting as mediator, the government was reported to have submitted a drastic and "final" peace plan to Thailand and Indo-China.

Views U. S.-Jap Future Without Pessimism

TOKYO—(INS)—The Japanese government does not hold a pessimistic view regarding future Japanese-American relations. Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye informed the diet (parliament) today.

In a statement to the lower house, the premier announced that the Japanese government is going forward along a path which it believed to be just. At the same time, he said, the government would do everything in its power to press home to the United States the "real intentions" of Japan.

Gayda Warns U. S. of 'Harmful' Opposition

ROME —(P)— Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor of Il Giornale D'Italia warned the American people today that their opposition to the Axis powers' program for Europe might result in political and economic isolation of the United States "with profound harm to its need for commercial expansion."

Gayda said Premier Mussolini's speech last Sunday in which Il Duce "denounced the war plots" of "the Rooseveltian Jewish oligarchy," had made a profound impression in the United States."

The editor repeated Mussolini's argument that Germany and Italy had no intention of attacking the United States and that American aid would be too little and too late to save Britain.

He then accused Roosevelt's oligarchy," associated with "a foreign Jewish minority," of "dictatorial insistence on dragging the American people into war."

In Jail Again

U. S. army regulations mean what they say, even when young brides are concerned, as Mrs. Esther M. Moore, 25, above, a bride of less than two months, has found out. When she tried to see her husband, Sergt. G. G. Moore, at the army air school, Glendale, Cal., contrary to regulations a few weeks ago, she was put in jail for the night. Now she's back in jail charged with again attempting to see her husband contrary to rules, and she's defiant! "I think a man's wife should come ahead of the army," she declared, "and I am going to see him."

sessment collections so far total more than $200,000, enough to permit the advance. Tax books, however, will remain open until March 20 and the regular distribution of tax money will not be made for several weeks after the books close.

Wolfe said a $50,000 advance to the Mansfield schools had also been authorized today at the request of the board of education. Operating on a close margin, the schools usually need one or more advances before the regular distribution of funds.

The auditor pointed out that tax collections have been better than anticipated in Mansfield, making it possible to authorize advances in the city district. Collections in some sections of the county are lagging, he said.

PLAN TO WIDEN SHELBY STREET

WPA Main Street Project Expected To Start In Short Time.

SHELBY—Widening of Main street under a WPA project is expected to start here within a short time, city officials revealed today.

The project was set up last spring to be done last summer, but shortage of WPA labor forced the project to be postponed until this spring.

The street will be widened approximately three feet on each side from the New York Central railroad tracks to Wentz avenue. Property owners along the street petitioned city council for the project.

WPA will pay labor costs, while the city will pay for the materials and equipment used. The property owners will share a part of the city's expenses.

More than 25 WPA employes are expected to be employed. Work will be started as soon as the weather is faborable for pouring cement, officials said.

ASSERTS FIFTH COLUMN CAUSED FALL OF FRANCE

Lecturer Tells 1,000 Here That Perfectly Organized Program Conquered.

made to defend Biarritz," Major Peck said, "and the Nazis took over control in what seemed like minutes. Imagine the surprise of Biarritz residents to find that the three German officers in command of the little company were men they had known for years.

"They had spent a dozen summers in Biarritz, renting villas along the sea. They had been "good fellows" and free spenders. They spoke French as well as any Frenchman and English better than I do. But they had spent those 12 summers planning for exactly what they had done. They knew Biarritz and its harbor better than any Frenchman living there."

In the streamlined German army, Major Peck explained, a company consists of 27 men and three officers.

"And it can throw more lead and has more destructive power than three American companies of World war days—and an American company then was 100 men and four officers.

It was a simple matter for one of those German companies to take Biarritz, a town of 30,000, he said. "And with such a company, I could take the city of Mansfield, with its 39,000 people," he said.

"Like hell you could!" countered a voice from the audience, and a gale of laughter ensued, in which Major Peck joined.

"I'll take that challenge," he replied soberly as the laughter ended, "and here's what would happen:

"You'd wake up on 'X-morning' and find that your house had no water. The reservoir would have been destroyed during the night. You'd have no gas and no electricity. Both would have been shut off. You'd go to the phone and get no response. That service would be closed down, too. Railroad tracks would have been destroyed. The armory, if of any military value would be in my hands. So would the city building, and the main intersections would be under the nose of a machine gun.

"In the ensuing confusion and consternation, those 30 men could control the town—and reinforcements would be close at hand if they were needed.

"When you're well fed and comfortable, it's easy to be brave," he said soberly, "but when there's a machine gun pointed at your belly and a bayonet at your back, you do exactly as you are told."

Significantly, no one laughed as he completed his explanation of a hypothetical conquest of a city by 30 men.

"War today isn't a pretty story," Major Peck asserted, "there's nothing glamorous about it and absolutely nothing is as it seems."

Unoccupied France, he said, may seem to be cooperating with Germany, but actually, it is "stalling" for time in the desperate hope of a British victory, feeling that the more time it can give Britain, the better the chances of a Nazi defeat.

"Ninety per cent of the French people hope earnestly for a British victory," he said. "They cheer reports of bombing of their own towns held by the Nazis.

French women carry portable radio sending sets hidden under their skirts, and keep the British advised of every German move in France, even though the penalty for discovery is death before a Nazi machine gun squad. Hundreds of French women have died such deaths."

The tall, grey-haired, long-bearded major in the French army, wearing his khaki uniform, was introduced to the audience by C. G. Hillier, president of the Rotary club. He was the first speaker in a series planned jointly by the University club and the Rotary group.

Berlin Watches All Bulgarian Moves

BERLIN—(AP)—Berlin took an increasing interest today in developments in Bulgaria where, Germans here said, "British agents were actively organizing disturbances and acts of sabotage."

Advices reaching Berlin said several persons, accused of being English agents, had been arrested on charges of attempting to damage the water system of Sofia, the capital.

However, widespread reports of German intervention in Bulgaria were met with sweeping denials.

Detectives Recognize Youth Who Planned to Get Married.

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Spencer Pruitt, 19, went to get his marriage license, but instead got arrested, and today faced charges of burglary.

Applying at county court house yesterday for his wedding license, Pruitt was recognized by detectives as one of a pair of youths whom police surprised breaking into a candy store last October.

Detectives said Pruitt escaped while his partner was shot in the arm and arrested.

BRING BIG FIRE UNDER CONTROL

Firemen Use Steam to Battle Huge Gasoline Blaze.

BRISTOW, Okla. — (AP) — An inferno of thousands of gallons of gasoline, ignited as four huge storage tanks exploded one by one, was brought under control by firemen last midnight after a five hour battle with steam and chemicals.

The torrent of fire, released into a nearby creek bed, threatened for a while to destroy the adjacent Wilcox refinery and a Negro residential section.

statement that the bill does not authorize sending of any military force to foreign countries," George said. "The bill does not deal with that subject.

"If the amendment, however, should be misinterpreted to the effect that we propose to abandon freedom of the seas it might lead us directly into war. The amendment might bring the danger of war, which we seek to avoid."

Acceptance of the Lucas amendment, which creates a committee of Democratic and Republican congressional leaders and chairmen of foreign affairs and relations committees, to consult with Mr. Roosevelt on British aid at his pleasure, was indicated by George.

"If it is a committee through which information could be transmitted, I see no objection to it," he said.

With opposition leaders denying any intention of filibustering —but insisting on full debate and declaring that they could beat the bill if it were debated 30 days—George gave notice that he will press for a vote.

"It looks to me as if the opposition doesn't want a vote," he said. "They are stalling. If there is any disposition to carry debate beyond the middle of next week, I will recognize that filibuster exists."

George also warned that speed is essential. He said that many British orders will be filled within 30 to 40 days.

"If the bill doesn't pass pretty soon, there will be a delay in providing aid," he said. "It takes time to order materials and prepare for new production."

Nye, Chavez and Holman debate the bill today with Sen. Wheeler (D., Mont.) planning to speak tomorrow.

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

Buick SPECIAL Convertible Coupe with Press-A-Button Automatic Top, $1138*

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they flit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in an easily-handled size that hasn't known such merit before.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look—it'll be the first time you've ever seen a really BIG car wrapped up in this bumper-to-bumper distance.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe

CHAPTER XX

"Thanks, no. I found her. She's going home with me."

"That's fine, old man," said Barclay with his inscrutable smile. "Tell her—"

He was talking to empty air for Cinders had turned out through the door. He stepped up beside the girl and took the wheel, sitting stiffly on his side of the seat and staring straight ahead. Nancy looked at his stern profile in the starlight and smiled, but did not break the silence. Presently her tawny head was on his shoulder and the desperately weary girl was sound asleep.

Nancy was still asleep when Cinders crossed the Jim Creek bridge and pulled up before the T Slash cookhouse. Through the dark and silent dining room he tenderly carried Nancy to her own cubbyhole, and as he sat her down on the cot and her eyes blinked open, he impulsively kissed her. Then, embarrassed, he fled.

Still only half-awake, Nancy began to undress. Oh, for a good both and a good bed! She shook up the hard and stingy pillow at the head of her miserable cot and in so doing discovered a letter, placed there no doubt by Roberta Rowland.

Drawing the window shade, Nancy lighted her lamp and read the letter addressed to Marcla Farnsworth; the same letter that Tony had steamed open and read; the same letter that Cinders Malloy Sturgis had taken away from Nancy and returned to the girl to whom he believed it belonged, the fake Miss Farnsworth.

How wonderful it was to hear from good old Uncle Bill. Pauline was still "plumb hog-wild"; John William was certain she had hired detectives; was certain he himself was being shadowed. However he believed the detective had as yet discovered nothing.

"Oh, the dickens they haven't!" thought Nancy. "I can't imagine why Barclay is holding off. As smooth as glass and as hard as flint, that fellow."

Her eyebrows drew together and she began to bite her lower lip. What was all this about Donald Sturgis?

"I staked a fellow name of Don Sturgis to get to the T Slash; told him your name was Marcla Louise Farnsworth, and that I was Wm. F. Waller. I gave him my office address, so he could report to me.

"Even though you won't agree, Nan, I'd have felt heaps better to have a trusty man sort of riding herd on you. But the confounded fellow turned out to be a rascal!

"I've reason to believe he lifted my wallet with over nine hundred dollars in it. So I don't think he'll have the gall to show up on the T Slash. But in case he does, here's what he looks like."

Followed a very good description of the sandy-haired Donald Sturgis, after which John William had added:

"I don't believe for a minute that Sturgis has ever heard of Mrs. Pauline Stevenson Huntington-Smythe, or has any idea who you really are. So he isn't likely to get in touch with your stepmother and make further trouble for us. Do write or wire me soon."

Nancy bit her lower lip a little bit harder. She wished Uncle Bill had said something more about Betty, the little maid who had been so frightened; she wished he could have told her a great deal more about what Pauline, her detective and Hudson Alexander were really doing. And what about Uncle Bill's "hunch" that something other than Nancy's disappearance was agitating both Pauline and Alexander?

Lifting the chimney from the lamp she set fire to the letter, dropped it into her washbasin and then transferred the ashes to a can which served as a wastebasket. She was too weary to puzzle her mind further. Yet her last waking thought was, "Did Barclay have Uncle Bill's billfold tonight at the poker game, or didn't he? If so, I'll spike his guns yet. If not—"

At dawn, old Ike Skittles started a fire in his kitchen range before he went over to Bobbie's room. Hand lifted to knock on the door, the veteran paused and turned away.

"No, by gollies," fishing in one hip pocket for his "eatin' tobacco." "I'll jus' let her sleep. Sweetest li'le trick ever was, an' anybody could tell she ain't used to workin' like a hoss. Somethin' tells me she's got class, that Bobbie. Her folks went busted, I betcha, an' she was 'bliged to get out and dig. Yep! That's it."

As he went about making breakfast, for once he was careful not to rattle and bang his pots, his pans and his stove lids.

Slim Cummings walked jauntily from bunkhouse to stable to saddle up and wrangle the cavy. Stuttering Jake and Cinders were the next to appear, coming at once to the cookhouse for the milk pails. Cinders paused to glance at the automobile the ranch buyer, Roger J. Barclay, now parked in front of the Lodge.

Stuttering Jake complained to old Ike, "Las' night I ha-ha-had to st-st-st-strip every cow this ja-ja-jasper tried to j-ju-jlice. I t-t-told him to g-g-grain the ho-hogs an' he f-fed 'em oats."

"But he's a willin' cuss," said Ike winking at Cinders. "Reckon he's larnt now oats is hoss feed, not hog feed."

Cinders' grin lacked animation or enthusiasm. He looked at Bobbie's closed door and said, "I wish we could let her sleep."

"Blister my fetlocks! Who's robbin' her o' sleep 'cept you, Cinders? I heard you drive in 'about midnight, or maybe one 'clock. Huh! You'd took her out in the ol' liz, and me figgerin' maybe them cow-punchers, Gabby particular, was beatin' your time. Wal, I hadn't orter, but I'm a-lettin' her sleep."

"You're sure a good egg," observed Cinders.

Whereupon Ike retorted gruffly, "Get the hell outta here so I can work."

Ten minutes later Mrs. Perriwell visited him. "Ike, tell me what you'll need from Jimtown today. Feeding dudes complicates the grub problem, don't it? Cowboys'll eat beans, steak, 'taters, biscuits and gravy till the cows come home, and like 'em. But dudes—" She shrugged.

"Let's count noses on lunches for today. Maxwell's staying in camp. Bing and Ted decided to try forking horses again. They'll go out with Flash. So will the rest, including Miss Farnsworth, unless Tony takes her riding. Don't know yet what Sol and the ranch buyer'll do . . . Is that chisel-faced buzzard a buyer or ain't he, Ike? Something fishy about him."

"Yes'm," Ike agreed. "Fishy? We-ll, Tony made a sucker o' him las' night, which is one kind o' fish I never figgered that dressy gazoob to be. Sorta think he was on the shark order."

"So Tony won in the poker game?" said Mrs. Perriwell thoughtfully and a bit tartly. "He won, and went to town with the ranch buyer. Euphum! I've got to see about something at once."

As Mrs. Perriwell went quickly out, the cook of the T Slash rolled his quid and wet his lips. "Doggone! I know what she's goin' to do. Wish I'd thunk to beat her to it. Plumb shame to treat good likker that-away."

For a change old Sol Perriwell had also left his bed early. There was a reason. Scarcely half-clad he invaded his son's room and when a preliminary survey failed to disclose what he was seeking, he shook Tony awake.

"Tony, Tony! I heard you raised a little dough las' night. You bring home a bottle from town?"

Tony blinked and yawned. "Uh? Hello, dad." His memories of the ride home from Dagger Wash were vague indeed, yet he recalled how Barclay, upon whom liquor seemed to have no effect, had piloted him to his room and had left a quart bottle somewhere. Tony reached under his pillow.

"Bottle? Here y'are, dad. Get me some water. Cold."

Old Sol seized the bottle. A step rang on the stairs. A hand turned the door knob and Sol turned guiltily to face his wife. She held out her hand.

Old Sol swallowed twice, gulping. "Now, now, Ma, just a little snifter. For my liver. It's--"

Ruth Perriwell took the bottle, after which she gave Tony a thoughtful glance. "That all, Tony?"

"Yep. That's all, Ma."

Nevertheless his mother looked carefully about the room before she went out.

Old Sol broke the ensuing silence. "You ought have cached it some place else, son." A profound sigh. "To think a man of my position can't get his fingers on a thin dime of this dude money. Ruth says open' the T Slash to tourists was her idea and she'll take care of all the cash.

"By dogies, it's humiliatin'. Worse still, if I sell a horse or a cow or even a scrubby calf I gotta turn the proceeds over to the bank to satisfy the damned mortgage . . . Tony! Wake up! Your father's talkin'."

Mansfield News-Journal
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1941.

Census calculations show that families are growing smaller—at least some of them.

Some folks have already started to worry about how tough things will be after the war.

Defining a term that some people do not understand: "Personal liberty is the right to act without interference within the limits of the law."

Fifth Column Methods Explained

MANY of the things that contributed to the quick fall of France, under the Nazi onslaught last summer, are better understood by Mansfielders who heard the talk given by Major Sedley Peck at John Simpson Junior high school auditorium last night.

Major Peck was there when it happened. As a participant in the first World war, and afterwards as an American newspaper correspondent and keen observer, he was peculiarly fitted to analyze the situation in France as it developed in the few days following the invasion of Holland and Belgium and then carried rapidly southward toward Paris.

Effectiveness of fifth column activities in France, and the methodical way in which each Nazi agent or sympathizer carried out his individual task, was vividly portrayed, and the question in the minds of listeners was to what extent such preparatory work is now being done in the United States and elsewhere in the Western Hemisphere.

A matter of special interest in Major Peck's talk was his defense of the courage of French soldiers and his explanation that defeat of the French armies was accomplished only as a result of the vast German superiority in mechanized equipment and manpower, rather than through cowardice or lack of loyalty on the part of French soldiers or their military leaders.

The way in which long-time residents of French cities were suddenly disclosed as Nazi officers after the occupation by Germany gave an idea of the thoroughness of preparation for the awaited "day" toward which the forces of Hitler had been looking through the years devoted to the building of a modern, stream-lined war machine while France and Great Britain were lagging behind, with military equipment fitted to the World war period but inadequate to cope with the modern German methods of attack by bombing planes, huge tanks which served as mobile forts, and the other paraphernalia used to spread terror and destruction in advance of occupation of each of the cities on the Hitler schedule.

Sponsored by the University and Rotary clubs, as a part of their community service activities, this public forum meeting was the first of several planned for the next few weeks, announcement of which will be made in advance of each. Attendance and interest at last night's meeting was sufficient to justify encouragement of further community assemblies for discussion of current topics.

Examinations Reveal Defects

OPPORTUNITY for a physical examination such as registrants for a year of training are given before being accepted as selectees, may prove more valuable than many of them realize.

Particularly for those who are rejected because of some bodily or dental defect, the thorough examination which they receive should be effective in pointing to the need of medical, surgical or dental attention to conditions not previously realized.

These physical examinations, to which the hours from 8 to 11 a. m. each Wednesday and Friday are set aside by the physicians and dentists who conduct them, are held at the armory and have been averaging about eighty registrants a week.

This makes two busy forenoons each week for the examiners, who serve without pay, as a part of their contribution to the national defense program.

Their only suggestion is that, during the progress of these examinations, their patients bear in mind that Wednesday and Friday forenoons are being given to this service.

Week-End Jail Sentences

WHILE the idea of permitting a jail sentence to be served over week-ends, instead of through consecutive days, is not entirely new its local application is sufficiently uncommon to attract attention.

Its use by Municipal Judge Kalbfleisch in three cases where men's earnings were needed for the support of their families seems a quite sensible action—and possibly more effective as a corrective agent than a mere 10-day jail sentence might be.

Such a plan, applied to reckless and drunken drivers might also serve a good purpose, as five week-ends in jail—from sundown Saturday to sunrise Monday—would at least reduce the highway danger to some extent over the week-ends involved, and might suggest safer driving habits to other offenders.

Those Tiny Grandmothers

WHEN the farm women of Dona Ana county in New Mexico decided to present a pageant at their fair they rounded up some wedding dresses of pioneer settlers and then tried to find girls to wear them. It proved to be almost impossible.

"Girls these days can't squeeze themselves into the gowns their grandmothers wore," remarked one of the women. The 18-inch—sometimes less—wasp waist of the earlier day can't be attained even with the aid of the modern "hour glass" corset. Neither can grandmother's dresses be fastened around the shoulders and chests of modern girls.

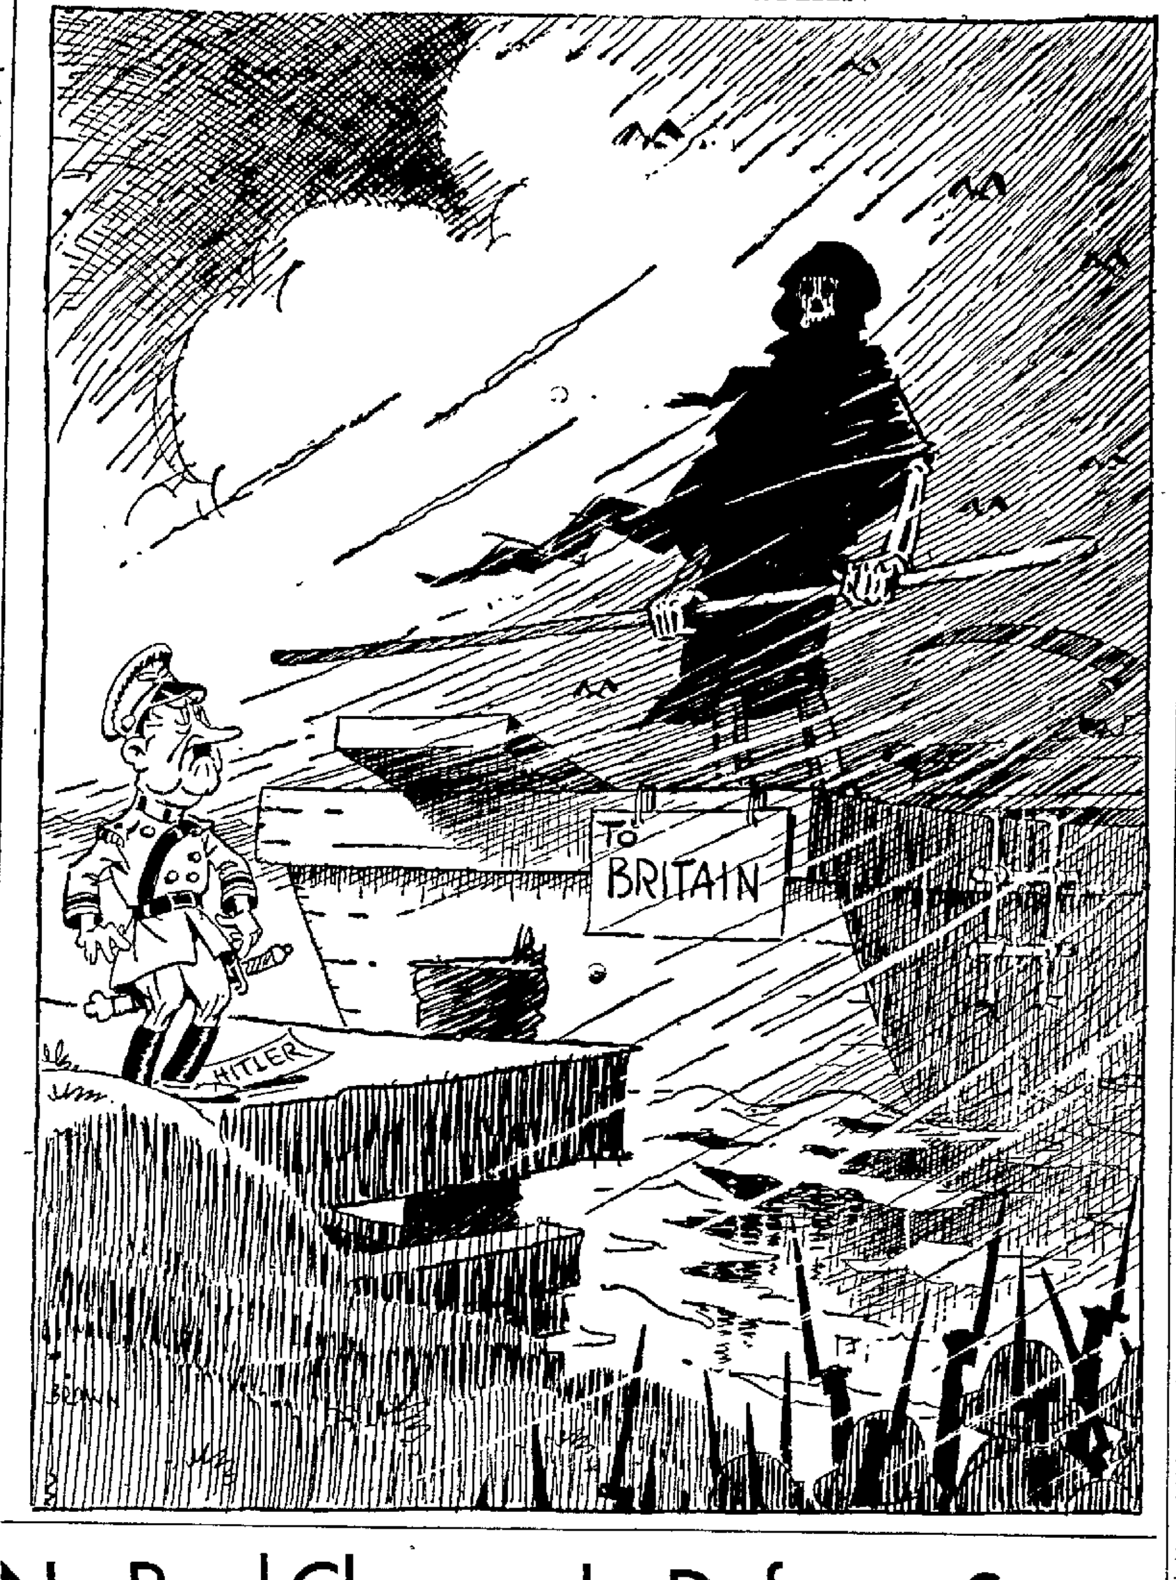
It is strange that grandma was so tiny. She did plenty of strenuous work and must have had her quota of healthful exercise, though it wasn't called exercise and wasn't undertaken in leisure hours for the purpose of reducing. Grandma must have eaten rather heartily, too, in order to have the energy to do all the work she did and raise a big family.

Girls are healthier and longer-lived today than in grandma's day, and it may be attributed to the same factors that make them too big for those old dresses.

What a wonder grandma was! She was little but mighty, and the country could not have been settled and civilized so fast without her aid.

A later bulletin discloses that the bomb which will have sufficient power to "destroy everything" will not be ready for another two years—which leaves time to do quite a number of things.

THE CHANNEL FERRYMAN



No Real Change In Defense Setup

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—There will be a new defense setup in the government just as soon as the lend-lease-aid-Britain bill becomes law. It will be interesting reading, but actually it will make very little change in the situation.

"Papa," as President Roosevelt likes to refer to himself when discussing who has the final say on anything in the government, will still make all the decisions. So far as the war situation, or "war risk" situation as some call it, is concerned, these decisions will be as to (1) the proportion of American war production to be "loaned" to Britain, (2) the problem of production itself, (3) financial problems involved, (4) economic warfare, (5) related problems such as shipping, etc.

The new setup will probably be called the Office of Emergency Management. That title is already on organization charts, though some more appealing name may be selected by the president when the time comes. The pattern will be simple. The key man of each of the units handling the problems just set forth will be a member of this "super" body. Thus a very delicate problem or two will be hurdled. For instance, nobody will be between William S. Knudsen and the president. The original understanding that the president is Knudsen's "boss" will stand.

WHILE there is no thought of face-saving in the president's mind in planning this new setup with his lieutenants, consideration is given to the possibility of criticism, not only immediately, but for the future. For example, the problem is to give Britain, as nearly as possible, what Britain wants—particularly what Winston Churchill SAYS he wants.

But there is necessity for a lot of studying at both ends, with a view to at least softening criticism that we are "taking orders" from Churchill. As defense "expediter," W. Averell Harriman's job in London will be to schedule British requirements with an eye to the realities of the production situation here.

Another reason for the new "super" body is that Roosevelt loves organized study of problems before him, not only by various experts and organizations on whom he may call, but by groups especially appointed for the purpose.

"That is being studied" is one of his favorite answers. When the reports finally come in, the president feels that he has complete information. The proposals have been shot at from every angle, as he sees it. "Bugs" have been eliminated by give-and-take argument around the conference tables, and the more conferences and the more tables over which to fire verbal broadsides, it seems to him, the more likely it will be that all the bugs have been detected and hit.

Information and arguments in support of the plan to be followed—the plan which emerges from all these "studies" and is then approved or revised to suit the president's own ideas about it—are thus produced in abundance for the use of administration orators on Capitol Hill—should that prove necessary. Or for that matter, on the rostrum and over the radio in the next congressional campaign, should the issue concerned turn into one of political significance.

SOME of the things to be fought over are so delicate that the public may not know about them until the war is over—perhaps until many years have elapsed and delicate international situations have passed into history.

A perfect illustration of this type, applicable to the certain and constant arguments to come over what proportion of our defense production can be spared for Britain, was revealed in a recent dispatch by this writer on the question of whether we can spare the destroyers that Wendell L. Willkie now advocates giving to Britain each month.

She seemed so sure
To those who saw her pass.
So proud . . . remote
From common, humdrum lives.
Her tall head gilded
By that aura
Which men call success.
Her steady eyes
And firmly smiling lips
True symbols of that strength,
Security and joy
For which we all so long,
Yet few achieve.

They never guessed,
Behind that smiling mask
Her mind turned always,
Not to fame or joy.
But back and back
To little hands
That clutched
Her apron, long ago.

They never knew
Her eyes were steady
Lest they drown in tears.
Or that her lips were firm
Because they held
A broken heart in place.

It does not pay to judge.
One never knows
What tailored shoulders
Bow beneath a cross.
One never knows

The Loyal Foreign-Born.

We may depend upon it that, this country having been liberal in the matter if immigration and permitting tourists and visitors to come here and go about pretty much as they pleased, we should inevitably get a few undesirable aliens who either continually make nuisances of themselves or actually become dangerous as fifth columnists.

But, after all, such aliens are rare compared with the vast numbers who have come here.

During the first World war we did have, now and then, to suspect some persons of Germanic origin, but we had striking examples of those who could speak only broken English, who were as loyal as if they had been born here and of native parents.

The second generation, as a rule, is as American as the Jones and Smith families. It knows America as its own home and, in many cases, its own nativity, and it is as much American as it possibly could be.—Ohio State Journal.

Jugoslavia to Rule In Balkans, Hitler's Promise for Support

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Inside of the Hitler-Jugoslav conference, as told in the diplomatic dispatches, was that der fuehrer did not stage his usual show of scolding and storming the two Serb statesmen, but tried flattery instead.

He talked a great deal about the "new order" in Europe, to be formed under German protection after the war is over. All the countries were to be together in a United States of Europe, with Germany preserving law and order.

In this picture, Germany needed a sort of deputy sheriff in the Balkans, and Hitler went on to say that this deputy sheriff could be Jugoslavia. Bulgaria, he said, was too small, Rumania too unstable. Therefore, Jugoslavia, if she co-operated with Germany, would be made in effect the real ruler of the Balkans.

Hitler also promised the two Jugoslav statesmen the Greek port of Salonika, with the surrounding Greek Macedonia. He also promised that their country could chop off more of Albania, and finally he hinted—though he made no definite promise — that Jugoslavia might get back Fiume and perhaps even Trieste at Italian expense. (Fiume is the famous Crotian seaport over which the Jugoslavs and Italians nearly went to war as a result of the Versailles peace treaty.)

These Hitler promises were tempting, but the Jugoslavs are under no delusion that in the "new order" Hitler could not move in on them immediately—deputy sheriff or no deputy sheriff.

What really counted with Jugoslavia was Turkey.

Bait for Turkey.

THE Jugoslavs and Turks have been working closely together for some years, and the Jugoslavs knew that they could not possibly resist Hitler unless the Turks would stand with them.

Meanwhile, however, Nazi diplomacy had been at work in Turkey—this time under the astute direction of Ambassador von Papen, who got his first real experience in diplomacy in the United States. He served as military attache of the German embassy during World war I, and was active in plots to blow up the Welland canal, the International bridge and various munitions plants.

Since then von Papen has risen high, has served as chancellor of Germany, and is now the man who has been trying to persuade Turkey to remain neutral.

The bait which von Papen used to get Turkey on the hook was the promise of the restoration of the Turkish empire—French Syria, British Palestine, and everything else right down to Iraq. This would include some of the richest oil fields in the Near East.

Meanwhile the British were pulling vigorously in the opposite direction.

Capital Chaff.

STATE department has hired a new officer for liaison work with the war and navy departments — Kenneth Anderson, the man whom Congressman Andrew May of Kentucky fired after long-time service as clerk of house military affairs. . . . Ex-Senator King of Utah visited the senate the other day, sat in his old seat, and itched with the impulse to rise and address the chamber. . . . Blind ex-Senator Gore of Oklahoma came into the chamber on the arm of a page and listened with uplifted face and rapt expression to the debate. . . . The new statue of Huey Long still wears a shroud, awaiting formal presentation to Statuary Hall in the capitol. . . . The sergeant-at-arms of the house offers congressmen the assistance of two experts in preparing their income tax statements. . . . Following isolation demonstrations in the senate galleries last week, capitol police keep all visitors lined up on the lower floor, and admit only a few at a time.

U. S. Turkish Expert.

CORDELL HULL has just elevated to assistant secretary of state the man who comes closer to being a monk than anyone in the state department.

G. Howland Shaw is a bachelor of 47. Born a Protestant, he was converted to Catholicism as a young man, and even after he had entered the foreign service, he considered leaving diplomacy to study for the priesthood.

Before tackling the worldly business of statecraft each morning, Shaw goes to mass. He never goes out socially in the evening, but stays at home to study.

Shaw has dealt with young people all his life, and he combines the worldliness of a diplomat with the tenderness of a priest. He uses his holidays to visit prisons and the homes for delinquent boys. He is a director of the Children's Village (for juvenile delinquents) in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and of the National Training School for Boys in Washington.

Shaw's interest in prison reform began when he was serving as a foreign service officer in Turkey, and he became so identified with the problem there that the Turkish government named its island prison "Shaw Island."

Defense Housing.

TYPICAL of the failure of the defense housing program is tiny Charlestown, Ind., where the government is completing a giant powder plant and preparing to erect a rubber-bag plant. Formerly a hamlet of less than 1,000, Charlestown now has over 12,000 construction workers living in trailers and other makeshift dwellings, or commuting from 40 miles away over icy roads.

Congress appropriated several hundred millions last summer to provide emergency housing, and Palmer was appointed defense housing co-ordinator at $9,000 a year for the express purpose of seeing that the job was done. To date, he has a large staff of high-salaried assistants, but so far only six defense housing projects have been completed—and he had nothing to do with starting them.

They were begun as regular projects by the U. S. housing authority and were shifted to defense purposes when USHA saw they were urgently needed. There are 1683 units in these projects, located at Montgomery, Ala., Pensacola, Fla., Corpus Christi, Tex., Portsmouth, Va., Columbus, Ga., and Fort Moline, Ill.

William Holmes McGuffey, despite his long career as a college professor, is most widely known for his Electic readers for elementary schools.

While he was professor at Miami university he began to compile the series of schoolbooks which have made his name a household word. The first and second readers were published in 1836, the third and fourth in 1837. His books reached the fabulous sale of 122,000,000 copies.

The readers' influence, moral and cultural, upon the children in the 37 states in which they were sold contributed much to the shaping of the American mind in the 19th century.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here is a story I picked up from Herbert Janssen of the Metropolitan Opera company. If it develops that this is another of those "cycle" stories that come to life every three or four years, kindly remember that I do not vouch for it. It didn't happen to me. I wasn't there. I am only passing it along as it came to me.

Janssen, who is a baritone, was rehearsing "Tannhauser." Eventually the orchestra got into the strains of "Evening Star" which, as you know, comes in the final act. As Janssen concluded the beautiful words of this song there came a sudden and inexplicable blare from the tuba. The director is reported to have been furious. "What is the matter with you!" he cried.

"I couldn't help it," explained the musician, "A fly lit on my score. And I played him."

IF BARRY WOOD appears to be slightly calendar conscious, there are extenuating circumstances. He was born on Lincoln's birthday (1909); he won a Yale scholarship on Independence Day (1926; he purchased his first saxaphone on Decoration Day (1927); he became master of ceremonies of the Hit Parade program on Columbus Day (1939), and he made his NY stage debut, with Dorothy Lamour, on St. Valentine's Day (1940).

Every few months, as duly reported by the press, the police go on cleanup drives to eliminate crime. Frequently this takes the shape of raids against gambling casinos. In the past the names of those patrons caught red-handed usually have been withheld by the police. Now it has been decided to report the names of everyone caught gambling to the credit bureaus in New York. The credit bureaus will use this information against offenders seeking to establish, or extend, credit. The city has found the authority to authorize this in an old law which classifies all people caught in gambling establishments as "vagrants." In the most recent raids, the best-dressed group of "vagrants" you ever saw were bagged. They came in ermine.

ANDRE KOSTELANETZ is a Pole. His name really is Kasztellanicc . . . Paul Muni is Polish also, as is Gilda Gray . . . Osa Munson, the film actress, is the daughter of a Danish ferry-boat captain . . . Not only copper, gold, and silver are legal tender. In some parts of the world slaves, soup cubes, ingots of tin, tobacco, blocks of salt, whale teeth, and ivory tusks are used as money. Eggs, beaver skins, nails, brass rings and dried cod are also good tender.

The revolutionary changes in book publishing make it possible for anyone to assemble a good library with very little money. The reprint business is such that one may obtain the finest biographies and novels now for a nominal sum. I have seen the classics in book windows for as little as 25 cents. You can get encyclopedias for 69 cents. The lives of the world's great men, from the dawn of civilization to the present are waiting for purchasers at prices this side of a dollar.

A Farmer's Diary

Boy and Marbles

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I TAKE my little boy to school sometimes.

At the first streak of dawn I hear a stir in the loft. Soft, yielding youthful soles strike against the upper floor and then come pattering down the rugged stairway.

"Why so early?" inquired his mother, who is getting breakfast.

"I think I can go with Daddy, if I hurry."

He unwinds his overalls and shirt, placed carefully in a corner, and his heavy shoes clump down upon the floor. Standing on the register, he dresses in warm haste, while savory odors of frying bacon, eggs and brewing coffee come floating in from the kitchen. There are plates for three. The young daughter and the three wee members of the family are still fast asleep. In silence we give thanks for God's many mercies and pray to be safely gathered about our humble hearth again when evening comes.

When the meal is over, we go forth into the winter morning dressed in heavy cap and overcoat. The old engine groans and whistles from the cold as I step upon the starter, but purrs merrily when it is warmed up.

The little boy sits by my side and talks excitedly of the game of marbles he will play before the school takes up. I notice that both knees of his pants are patched.

"Look at these," he said, and shows three lovely glassies clutched in one hand. "Aren't they pretty? I'm almost afraid to put 'em in the ring for fear some other boy will hit 'em straight and they'll not be mine any more. I wrapped 'em up last night in a piece of paper and put 'em beneath my pillow. Tonight maybe somebody else will have 'em. Well, if he does I hope he'll like 'em, too, as well as I do.

"I tell you, Daddy," and his dark eyes beamed, "if you'd give me a nickel I could buy three more just like 'em."

At the concrete walk that leads two blocks to where the village schoolhouse stands, I let him out. He put his slender arms around my neck and pulled hard. I caught the precious message of that soft young cheek. Then he climbed out and closed the door.

I watched him turn, face eastward toward the morning sun, and run eagerly down the path. His heels moved rapidly and I heard his steps long after his slender form had disappeared.

Then I drove on.

TOWNSHIP TO BUY NEW TRUCK

Madison township trustees today took steps to bolster its road equipment, calling for bids on the purchase of a new truck.

The board said sealed proposals on the truck would be received until noon, March 15, and that the bidder is asked to submit a price on the purchase of a seven-year-old model truck now in use in the road department.

Authorized by county officials, the purchase will be made from a $5,000 tool and machinery fund set up early this year in the annual appropriation bill.

OKED BY BOARD

County commissioners today had authorized the expenditure of $150 for the installation of new lighting equipment in the clerk of courts office at the courthouse and $161 for the installation of a water heater at the county jail.

Contract for the light fixtures went to the National Electric company. The Hughes Supply company is in charge of installing the water heater.

THEATERS

"Pastor Hall."

Opening at the Madison tomorrow is James Roosevelt's stirring and dramatic motion picture of life in Nazi Germany. It is based on an original story by Ernst Toller. Chief action centers around a clergyman in a small German town who dares to oppose the Nazi regime. Wilfrid Lawson, Nova Philbeam and Seymour Hicks share casting honors. Relief from the heavy drama is supplied by the other feature, the comedy "Road Show," in which a long list of favorites star. The line-up includes Adolphe Menjou, Carole Landis, John Hubbard, Patsy Kelly, Charles Butterworth and others.

Love's Detour.

Andy's troubles when he obtains a private secretary and flunks an English exam continue to multiply at the Ohio theater the remainder of this week. Mickey Rooney, in this newest episode of the Hardy family adventures, "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," takes another detour on the road to true love. The detour includes Kathryn Grayson.

"Tugboat Annie Sails Again."

Next feature attraction at the Ritz beginning tomorrow is "Tugboat Annie Sails Again," which brings that beloved character of fiction and film in a new adventure that is packed with humor and drama. Marjorie Rambeau is "Tugboat Annie" and Alan Hale is cast as Capt. Bullwinkle. A human, dramatic story about in-laws and resultant complications is the other feature tagged "Jeannie" and listing Virginia Gilmore at the head of a large cast.

A-ridin' and A'flyin'.

Gene Autrey becomes entangled in a web of romantic troubles as he flies on an airliner and rides and sings again in "Ride, Tenderfoot, Ride," which continues at the Park theater. Smiley Burnette and little Mary Lee help complicate matters. The song-and-dance musical, "Melody in the Moonlight," is also playing.

Injustice: Tragedy.

With a James Hilton novel starring Paul Muni, theater fans are assured of an interesting evening at the Majestic theater tonight. "We Are Not Alone," which has one of the most beautiful musical scores ever written for a motion picture, has Jane Bryan and Flora Robson in the cast. An exciting story of underworld lawyers is "The Man Who Talked Too Much" which stars George Brent, Brenda Marshall, Richard Barthelmess and William Lundigan. It's the second feature on the same bill.

GOES TO WIDOW

Estate of Thomas R. Barnes Willed To His Wife.

Thomas R. Barnes, Mansfield business and political leader who died Jan. 30, left his estate to his widow, Mrs. Lida R. Barnes, under provisions of his will which had been filed today in probate court.

Mrs. Barnes was nominated as executrix of the estate. There was no estimate of the value of the property. The will was drawn in December, 1929.

Mr. Barnes was one of the founders of the Barnes Manufacturing company and the first chairman of its board of directors. He was active in Republican politics, serving on the party's county executive committee for 25 years.

East Third Residents Want 2-Hour Parking Limit.

City council at its March 4 meeting will consider a request submitted today by property owners on East Third street for a two-hour parking limit on the street between North Adams street and the Pennsylvania railroad.

The petition filed with Council Clerk William J. Beer, jr., and signed by more than 30 residents, asks council to order a two-hour limit to eliminate all-day parking in front of their homes.

Residents complained that they are unable to find available parking space near their homes because the street is taken up by cars parked there by workers in factories in that vicinity.

Treason is a capital offense in 16 states.

STATE, COUNTY AAA OFFICIALS TO MEET HERE

Marketing Quotas For Wheat and Corn To Be Discussed at Session Thursday.

State and county AAA officials will discuss the federal farm program's proposed marketing quotas for wheat and corn and the approaching elections on the quotas at meetings in Mansfield Thursday, it was announced today at the county AAA office.

A morning session will be held at 9:30 a. m. at the soil conservation headquarters on North Diamond street, while the afternoon meeting will be at 1 p. m. in the courthouse. The meetings will be open to all county farmers.

Discussions will be headed by Chris Kainrad, member of the state AAA committee, and Guy Taylor, county AAA chairman. Other county committeemen will assist them.

Principal topic of the discussions will be the elections at which farmers will decide whether the federal government shall limit the amount of wheat and corn farmers can sell this year. The wheat election has been tentatively set for May 31. The election on the corn quotas will be late in the summer or early in the fall.

Federal farm officials called for the elections after estimating that the nation's wheat and corn crops will be much larger than needed this year if weather conditions are normal.

If farmers vote for the quotas, the amount of grain farmers can sell or feed to hogs and cattle for marketing purposes will be limited by the farm allotments under the AAA program. Farmers who sell more than they are allotted would be assessed 15 cents a bushel for all the excess grain they sell.

Farmers in Weller township will be given an opportunity to sign up for the 1941 soil conservation program at a meeting Wednesday at the Union Rural high school, county AAA offiicals said. The meeting will be one of a series being held in all parts of the county.

Under a new agreement between Germany and Denmark, the Reich will deliver large amounts of synthetic wool to be used in making clothing.

PENDING MEASURES WOULD PUT 'TEETH' IN DRIVER LICENSE LAW

Pending before the state legislature are bills that would put teeth in Ohio's automobile drivers license law by requiring re-examination of any driver believed unfit to operate an automobile.

The bills would empower the "state registrar of motor vehicles to order any driver suspected of disabilities to submit to re-examination.

It would also eliminate all drivers under 15 years of age and would require surrender of old license certificates on issuance of new ones.

Chief witness in support of the bills being given hearing before the senate highway committee is J. Russell Lloyd, executive secretary of the Ohio Association of Automobile clubs.

Lloyd declares that automobile clubs throughout the state felt that while the present drivers' license law had served a useful purpose in bringing regulation to Ohio, conditions have reached a point where stricter examination of all new drivers and re-examination of part of the drivers is necessary.

"Traffic problems increase each year," Lloyd said, "by the licensing of 200,000 new drivers, of which number only 40,000 qualify themselves by examination. We assume that the remaining 160,000 every year get a license certificate by swearing that they have already been driving a year or more. That excuses them from examination under terms of the present law."

Your Federal Income Tax

NO. 26

Automobile Deductions.

With the number of automobile owners registering in the millions, the question of deductions for the cost of operation and maintenance of a motorcar frequently arises. The purchase price of an automobile, whether it is to be used for business or pleasure, cannot be deducted from gross income. If used for business, it is a capital expenditure; if used for pleasure, it is a personal expenditure—both deductions being expressly prohibited by the income-tax law.

Several deductions, however, are allowable in connection with the cost of maintenance and operation of an automobile, used either for business or pleasure. If used exclusively for business, deductions may be taken for the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, and other necessary operation and upkeep expenses. Depreciation based on the cost of the car and its estimated useful life, also is deductible.

Other deductible items are as follows: Sums paid during the taxable year for registration fees, personal-property tax, and municipal taxes; interest on money borrowed for the purchase of a motorcar, either for business or for pleasure; loss sustained by reason of damage while car is being used for business, provided such loss is not covered by insurance or otherwise; damages paid for injury to another, provided that the car was being used for business at the time, and the damage was not covered by insurance or otherwise; and the amount paid for insurance on motor vehicles used for business purposes.

The Cordillera Real of Bolivia, one of the most impressive of mountain ranges, averages 20,000 feet in height for a distance of 100 miles.

ECZEMA

A simple way to quick relief from itchy Eczema, pimples, angry red blotches and other skin irritations due to external causes is by applying Peterson's Ointment to the affected parts. Relieves itching promptly. Makes the skin look better, feel better. Peterson's Ointment also soothing for tired itchy feet and cracks between toes. 35c, all druggists. Money back if not delighted.

GALION—Two Galion churches, First Reformed and First Lutheran, held their annual Father-Son banquets Tuesday evening.

There were around 150 present for the dinner and program, at the First Reformed church, sponsored by the Men's brotherhood of the church. Dinner was served by the Dorcas society and music was furnished by the Sunday school orchestra under the direction of Charles F. Tracht. Group singing was led by Lee Miller, the program chairman, with piano accompaniment by Kenneth Rensch. Toasts were given by C. W. Tracht and John Poth.

The guest speaker was F. E. Honnold of Mt. Gilead, Morrow county superintendent of schools. G. M. Badgley, president of the brotherhood, opened the meeting.

At the First Lutheran church, the guest speaker was Rev. Eugene Rush of Mt. Gilead, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church.

The program which followed the banquet was opened with group singing led by Lowell Ness. Toasts were given by John Guinther and Eugene Sherer; and songs were sung by the Jolly Rogers quartet composed of Fred Wilson, Richard Patterson, Rev. S. S. Wees and George Rule, with Mrs. Patterson at the piano.

The banquet was served by the Ladies' Guild of the church and during the meal, music was furnished by the Brotherhood instrumental sextette directed by Eugene Sherer. Prayer was offered by Rev. H. R. Merle.

EXCHANGE MEETS

The annual dinner of the Galion Equity Exchange was held Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. in the Peace Lutheran parish house with around 250 present. Rev. Fay Le Meadows, pastor of the Shiloh Congregational Christian church in Dayton, was guest speaker.

Musical portion of the program was presented by Helen Case, accordionist, and Hugh Sipes and son, vocalists.

Dad enjoys the paper more than ever... since we had our home LIGHT CONDITIONED
BEFORE
See how attractive proper LIGHT CONDITIONING makes this living room!
AFTER
A modern, three-light lamp, with double swing arm, built to I. E. S. specifications for safe seeing costs as little as $13.95 up
We have a wide range of styles in table lamps, both in decorative and table study types. The one above costs only $4.95 up
Five silver-bowl bulbs with bronze clip-on shades will modernize any living room, dining room, or other ceiling fixture. Or buy them in twos or threes for bedrooms, or singly for halls. In sets of five, only... $2.75
...and it costs so little to have correct light conditioning!
Did you ever see Dad fall asleep reading his paper... after dinner? Or maybe you yourself have done just that. We used to blame that after-dinner sleepiness to over-eating. But scientists have discovered that usually the real cause is the poor lighting under which Dad tries to read his evening paper. Insufficient light, or glaring light, causes eye-strain which in turn robs Dad of his nervous energy, and finally his body just gives up and relaxes of its own accord... and Dad is sound asleep before he knows it. But look... look at the living room above. See how a few simple, inexpensive changes in the lighting equipment have made the room brighter and more cheerful... and what is more important, have provided Dad with the proper amount and quality of light for safe reading. Those simple silver bowl bulbs with their bronze clip-on shades eliminate the glare from the ceiling fixture and give a soft even light throughout the room. Yet all five cost only $3.15. The beautiful, new, three-light lamp next to Dad's chair, which replaces the inadequate glaring, goose-neck lamp, costs as little as $12.95. The table type floor lamp at the near end of the davenport was modernized with a glass diffusing bowl and three-lite bulb for only $4.95. And the added table lamp at the far end of the davenport cost only $4.95. For about $25.00, then, the entire room was completely Light Conditioned. Perhaps your living room needs only one or two changes to bring the lighting in it up to safe seeing levels. We'll gladly show you how... without obligation. Just call

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

Second of five articles.

HOLLYWOOD — Any observer will tell you that the war, if a war can be good for anything, has been good for Hollywood .

Like a wastrel gourmet forced on a diet ,this fabulous industry undoubtedly has gained in health.

"Too bad it took a war to do it," one commented. "but the jolt of the world situation has shaken a lot of smugness out of us, made us open our eyes and look around instead of inward, made us realize it's not all gravy."

Another pointed out that economy instead of extravagance in production has become the "fashionable" thing. "There used to be too much of this we-are-great-artists - and - must - be - forgiven stuff," he said. "Directors are more practical now. Nobody knows better than a good director how to get the most for his production dollar. But it used to be that some important directors measured their importance by the amount of money they could waste. Shooting 28 'takes' on a scene, and using the second, was always a good stunt when it was fashionable to be 'difficult' and extravagant. It isn't any more. Just the opposite."

INCREASED labor costs. with prospects of further increases as government defense construction creates greater scarcity in skilled building tradesmen, have added to the problem of lost foreign revenues, making economy mandatory.

Producers have checked many seemingly inconsequential leaks in the budgets. Directors don't insist on genuine Ming vases for the table at the rear of the set. out of camera range. An art director who can "dress" a picture for $10,000 (and make it look like $50.000 on the screen) is an acknowledged asset instead of a freak. By assembling the crew and minor actors early, a troupe is set up, rehearsed and ready to shoot at 9 when the stars report—instead of waiting until 10:30 or 11. By confining expenditures to items which are essential or which enhance production values concretely a movie outfit can get the same pitcure for a smaller budget, and a better picture when the resultant savings are thrown into the kitty.

CONTRACTS FOR ARMS REACH 15 BILLION TOTAL

Informed Quarters Say Auto Industry Must Slight Passenger Cars.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The gigantic size of America's arms production job was emphasized today by a survey indicating that contracts already totaled about $15,000,000,000—more than six times the estimated value of the automobile industry's entire output for 1939.

This figure represented formal awards both by the British government and United States defense agencies.

Nearly $6,000,000,000 of authorized American orders have yet to be placed under contract, although the government already has given manufacturers an informal but binding "go ahead" on much of this business. Moreover, additional billions in orders are in prospect, both for this country and probably for Britain under the pending lease-lend bill.

In the light of these fiscal facts, many officials believed that arms production eventually would put a deeper crimp into "business as usual" than most of the country realized.

The opinion was advanced in well informed quarters that the automobile industry would be required to divert its attention increasingly from passenger car output to the manufacture of airplane engines, sub-assemblies for aircraft and perhaps ultimately complete planes.

Many defense industries still were in the process of "tooling up," and no large-scale rounded deliveries of munitions appeared in prospect before next fall. Peak production in some lines was scheduled well along in 1942, in others still later.

Plane deliveries during January totaled 1,026, better than the figure predicted officially a month before. William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management, was encouraged to forecast an output of 18,000 planes this year.

As to the 9,200 tanks which Knudsen said this country would produce, the latest official information was that light tanks were being produced at the rate of four a day and that medium tanks would be rolling from a number of plants by mid-summer. Progress on the army's new heavy tanks of 55 tons or more was kept secret.

Officials said naval construction had reached the point where a new ship was joining the fleet every 12 days.

BANDITS WOUNDED IN ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP EXPERT MARKSMAN

(By United Press)

ZANESVILLE — Two youthful bandits were wounded, one critically, today when they attempted to hold up a garage proprietor who is an expert marksman and hunter.

Clyde F. Bamsfield, 56, the garage owner, fired the shots at the gunmen as they fled from his garage in Norwich, 12 miles east of Zanesville on U. S. No. 40.

A man who gave his name as Joseph Kijowski, 21, Ford City, Pa., was seriously wounded by the shotgun blasts. A second man, identified as Andrew Poland of Ford City, was believed wounded also but he escaped on foot.

Muskingum county authorities immediately organized a posse and began search for the fleeing man.

Kijowski was in serious condition in a Zanesville hospital with shotgun pellets in the chest and right arm. Bamsfield said he believed he wounded Poland in the face.

According to Bamsfield, the two young men entered his garage about 7 a. m. and one asked if he could change a $10-bill. When Bamsfield reached beneath a counter for his cash box, the two visitors drew out pistols and grabbed the box containing about $15.

Then they marched Bamsfield to the door and slammed the door in his face while they ran toward an automobile parked outside.

Bamsfield who has several guns around his garage, reached for a shotgun, opened the door and began firing. He shot twice as the men ran to the car and three times after they got into the car.

Noting that Kijowski was wounded badly, the second bandit jumped out of the car and ran away on foot.

Kijowski told police the car was stolen in Ford City.

NAMED AGAIN

W. E. Stough Re-elected Head of County Farm Bureau.

W. E. Stough, Springfield township farm leader today had been re-elected president of the Richland County Farm Bureau Co-operative association for the second year.

All other officers of the association were re-elected by the directors at their annual meeting. They are Neil Robinson, Mansfield, vice president; R. R. Howard, Shiloh, secretary, and W. B. Davis, Mansfield, treasurer.

Stough was re-elected to the board of directors for three years at the annual meeting of members of the association last Thursday. At the same time M. E. Fisher, Jefferson township, and H. H. Wolf, Franklin township, were chosen again on the board of directors.

The association's business totaled 603,000 in 1940, largest volume of any county co-operative in the state.

NORTH FAIRFIELD DRIVER INJURED

Passenger Train Strikes Auto at Crossing Near Willard.

WILLARD—Struck by a Baltimore and Ohio railroad passenger train Tuesday noon at a crossing seven miles east of here, Vern L. Starkey, 58, of North Fairfield, escaped with lacerations and bruises. He was taken by the train crew to the Municipal hospital here where today his condition is reported as "satisfactory."

His car was demolished when it was struck by the train and thrown more than 30 feet.

Full extent of Starkey's injuries are not known, but he received lacerations about the head and bruises on the head and chest.

Up and Down the Street

Mansfielders are warned by postoffice officials today to beware of the old "Spanish Swindle" trick. The swindler writing from South American countries to gullible persons in the U. S. esserts that he is imprisoned or bankrupt. He offers a reward to the prospective "bait" if they will come with a sum of money to the South American country and obtain the release of negotiable papers worth a large fortune. He is relieved of his funds on arrival in the country by trick or fraud. Any such letters received by Mansfielders should be turned over to postoffice authorities.

The audience of Major Sedley Peck who gave a lecture here last night, included a little black and white dog. The silky-haired little fellow was very well-behaved but at times his interest waned. Then he would patter up and down the aisles just in sheer friendliness. But always he would return to the front row, waggle into a comfortable position under the seat and listen attentively. Once or twice he caught the eye of the dignified speaker. However, he remained unabashed. After the lecture, whether it was because he recognized a fellow-nose-for-news or just a kindred spirit, he escorted a News-Journal reporter downtown.

A young Richland countian who was turned down by the army several weeks ago because of his teeth and is now in the county jail may get another chance at army life if county officials can find a benefactor to pay for getting his teeth repaired. Authorities have made a bargain with the youth, telling him that he will be released from jail if he can arrange to get into the army. He allegedly became involved in some trouble at Shelby after volunteering for army service and being rejected by medical examiners. Because he has a good record, authorities believe he can qualify for the army.

Mansfielders craned their necks for a while shortly before noon today to watch a Goodyear blimp that floated westward over the city and looked as if it might land in the vicinity of the Fairground. The blimp didn't stop, however, and officials at the Mansfield airport said they had no report of any mechanical trouble that would force the big ship down.

ILLNESS FATAL

John W. Clingan, 78, Dies at Hospital; Rites Friday.

John W. Clingan, 78, life-long resident of Weller township, died early today at the Mansfield General hospital following a lingering illness. He was born June 21, 1862, and was a member of the Franklin Methodist church for many years.

Surviving are his wife, Minnie Dell Clingan, a daughter, Mrs. R. Coulter of Dayton, two sons, Earnest P., of Weller township, and Cloyd E. of Franklin township, four grandchildren and a brother, Edward Clinngan of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held from the Franklin Methodist church Friday at 2:30 p. m. in charge of Rev. H. Middleton, assisted by Rev. F. M. Dickey. Burial will be in Franklin cemetery.

The body will remain at the Finefrock funeral home until Thursday afternoon when it will be removed to the late home until time of the services.

SYRIAN NATIVE TO TALK HERE

Youth to Tell of Struggles on Arrival In New World.

A Syrian-born American youth who escaped his war-torn native land to win success in the new world will be the speaker at Mansfield Senior high school, during the Friday noon assembly.

Salom Rizk will speak on the "Americanization of An American," recounting in his talk experiences in his native land and his struggles after he arrived in the United States unable to speak the language.

Readers Digest has sponsored Rizk's tour of high schools in the interests of good citizenship and as a contribution to the job of character building among American youth.

OWENS FUNERAL SET

Funeral services for Jasper Owens, 32, who died Monday evening at his home, 286 East Second street, following a lingering illness, will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic church. Msgr. R. C. Goebel will officiate and burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery. Until the time of service friends may call at the Geiger funeral home.

FIND BODY ON FLOOR OF LONG ISLAND HOME

Authorities Called to Scene By Voice Declaring 'I Just Shot a Man.'

MANHASSET, N. Y. — (INS) — With the alleged slayer under arrest, police today investigated the house-party murder of John Gormley, 34-year-old riding academy proprietor, who was found shot dead last night in the bedroom of a wealthy Long Island matron.

Police were summoned to the palatial $30,000 residence of Mrs. Mary Gerken, 38, at Russell Gardens, L. I., by an urgent phone call —"Send the cops up here—I just shot a man." They reported the seizure of Thomas Gallagher, 31, a former gas station owner and recent employe of the Brooklyn navy yard.

Gormley, owner of riding academies in Flushing, Queens, and Great Neck, and reported friend of Grover Whalen, was found sprawled on the floor of the master bedroom. Gallagher, police said, handed over a .38 calibre revolver, and confessed the shooting.

Gormley was shot, according to police, when he sought to break down the locked door of a bedroom, occupied by Mrs. Gerken, who had been hostess at an all-day drinking party, and Gallagher. She is the wife of a retired automobile dealer.

"It was self defense," Gallagher said as police took him to the Mineola station.

Husband of the party hostess, Edward R. Gerken, was said to be in Florida. He is the nephew of the late Edward A. Ridley, the eccentric millionaire who was mysteriously slain in 1933 in his underground office on New York's lower east side.

Mrs. Gerkin, too hysterical to be questioned, was taken by police with Gallagher to be locked up.

Brother's Double Loser In Bet on Waukegon Election

WAUKEGAN, Ill. —(INS)—Frank Kilbane, who sought the Democratic nomination for mayor of Waukegan against his twin brother, Harry, a Republican, was a double loser today.

The politically opposed twins 35 years old and bachelors, operate a tea room, and in a private election bet decided that the brother winning the fewest number of votes would have to work the tea room's "midnight trick" for six months.

Both Frank and Harry were defeated for the nomination. But Frank, the Democrat, obtained only 161 votes to Wallin's 1,790, while Republican Harry had 1,278 votes to Mayor Talcott's 3,028.

Frank did his best to lick Harry. Late yesterday, when it was obvious he was running badly, he announced the Kilbane tea room would provide free meals for everybody, and he'd sign the check. There was a rush of business but, Frank opined today, some Republicans must have eaten too.

Benefit Program Given By P. T. A. Attended By 800

More than 800 parents, students and friends attended the benefit show sponsored by the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school P. T. A. at the school last night. A movie, "Hoosier Schoolboy," featuring Mickey Rooney and Ann Nagel, was shown, and a group of students gave a musical program. Anna Marie Fischer, ninth grader, served as mistress of ceremonies. She was introduced by Glenn Rohleder, school principal.

J. Merton Holcombe and A. L. Derr were in charge of the musical portion of the entertainment in which solo and orchestral numbers were presented. Tickets were sold by each room in the building, and the winning room was John Correll's. Members sold 77 tickets, and Joan Kullman was presented with the trophy by E. S. Wendell, P. T. A. president.

The class was organized with Joan as salesman, Eleanor Young as secretary and Charles Sauder as treasurer. Proceeds of the entertainment will be added to the fund for the school sound movie projector which the association has purchased.

Chi Sigma Members Plan Social Session

Members of Chi Sigma sorority met last evening for a business session at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, with Miss Naomi Stutz, president, in charge. At this time she announced that Mrs. Wilbur Upson, Miss Emily Cox, Miss Dorothy Crawford, Miss Jane Cunningham, Mrs. James Courtney and Mrs. John Courtney will serve as a committee in charge of the March social meeting.

It was announced that the Delta province convention of the sorority will be held in St. Louis, Mo., on April 19 and 20. Mrs. John L. Catlett, province president, and Miss Stutz are planning to attend. The next regular meeting of the sorority will be held on March 4, with the place to be announced.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10¢ and 25¢.

Entertain Guests at Earnest Workers Meet

Rev. and Mrs. Albert J. Linder and Miss Edna Mae Boswell were guests at a meeting of the Earnest Workers class of the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday evening in the church parlors. Sherman Skaggs was host for the meeting, which was in charge of Mrs. Floyd Bellnap.

There were 23 members in attendance, and the devotions were given by Mrs. John Robb. Following group singing and a vocal solo by Miss Boswell, Rev. Linder spoke on "The Life of George Washington." Games were played and refreshments served at a late hour. The time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

GIVE PLAY

SHELBY — A three-act play, "The Alley Daffodil," will be given by members of Union grange at 8 p. m. tonight at the grange hall.

"Live WORMS in my Child?..Never!"

Better make sure, Mother!

Yes, right now, bowel worms (roundworms) may be troubling your child without your even knowing it! This nasty ailment may be "caught" easily, everywhere. And you may not recognize the signs. For example: uneasy stomach, nose-picking, paleness, fidgeting, itching seat, backwardness.

Don't take chances with roundworms! Get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! Jayne's is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. It expels stubborn worms, without upsetting the child. If no worms are there, it is just a mild laxative. So play safe: insist on Jayne's Vermifuge!

Shopping Around...

With MARIANNE

THERE'S a new line of cosmetics on sale in one of the downtown stores just now, and it has so many nice features that after you see it, you'll probably want a number of the items. . . . In the first place, everything in the line sells for one low price, and all the containers are of a generous size and attractive design. . . . The face powder can be purchased in five attractive shades, Rachel, 1 and 2, Flesh, Apricot and Velvet Rose, and a feature of the box is that it has extra space in the top for a puff. . . . Dry rouge and the lipstick come in harmonizing shades of Rose, Natural, Ruby, Bright and Raspberry.

Marianne

The creams in this line are designed to meet the needs of all type of skin. There are cleansing creams and freshening lotions for both dry and oily complexions, a night cream, powder foundation, cold cream, pore masque and a hand lotion. . . . Then there also are two fragrant colognes with matching dusting powders in "Meadow Clover" and "Cinnamon Pink."

* * *

Something new to make milady's bath more luxuriant can be found in those little "bublets." There are 15 packaged in a box, and one of the tiny cakes placed under the water faucet soon makes a wealth of foamy suds in the bathtub. . . . They can be obtained in pine, spice and apple blossom scents.

* * *

HERE'S A HELPFUL HINT: All this week one of the local department stores is offering a bottle of doveskin oil with each purchase of a special vitamin cream. . . . The all-purpose cream should have astounding results on dry, chapped complexions at this season of the year, because it contains vitamins A and D, which help nourish and stimulate the skin cells to renewed activity, relieving dryness, receding enlarged pores, and adding a fresh, glowing tone to the skin. And the oil is especially efficient when used on dry, sensitive skins because it is a highly concentrated sunshine vitamin D oil.

* * *

SPRING may still be around the corner so far as the calendar is cerned, but when it comes to letter and note papers, it's right here! Even the boxes are springlike in the new stationery now on display. . . . Boxes containing both letter and note sized papers are decorated with garlands of bright flowers, and the papers come in all white or all blue, as well as white with blue border and envelope linings, and similar combinations of tan and luggage, gray and dubonnet. Another style can be purchased in all white, all blue or white with a blue edge and peach with a white edge, and the envelopes are lined with cellophane lace. . . . Embroidered stationery is new too—and in case you're wondering what that might be, it's a white paper with a raised floral design in the upper left corner. . . . A random-weave paper with an unfolded sheet comes in tan, with a pale green envelope lining and deckle edge, and blue with gray lining. . . . For the more informal correspondence, there is flecked blue-gray paper trimmed with coral-colored flowers in both folded letter and note paper sizes, and other note styles are decorated with gay flowerpots. Then you also can buy those handy social postals with deckle edges in white, tan and blue.

* * *

AND IN CONCLUSION: Some cute little costume jewelry notes are those pins made from bright-colored glass in such cunning shapes as streamlined dogs, swordfish, alligators and elephants. . . . And pastel catalyn tops have been added to wooden bases to form other animal pins. . . . Some new ring sets are really seven rings in one, as they come with that many interchangeable sets. . . . And new in shell necklaces are those of pastel painted shells.

* * *

Note: The styles described above are available in Mansfield shops. You can learn where they may be obtained if you will telephone Marianne at The News-Journal between 1 and 2:30 p. m.—Canal 4251.

Hedges Mothers Club Has Dinner For Patrol Boys

MEMBERS of the Hedges Mothers club entertained the Patrol Boys of the school, Frend C. Boals, the teachers and school janitors with a covered-dish dinner at the school at 11:30 a. m. yesterday. The tables were decorated with red, white and blue appointments, and members of the serving committee included: Mrs. Walter Wentland, chairman, Mrs. Roy Reeder, Mrs. Paul Boyd, Mrs. Marie Davis, Mrs. D. G. Stafford and Mrs. John Dovenbarger.

Mr. Boals told of the duties of the Patrol Boys, and Glenn Robinson, principal of the school, also spoke. Miss Mildred Keller, patrol supervisor, gave a brief talk on the boys' work. On behalf of the Mothers club and the P. T. A. of the school, Mr. Boals presented Miss Keller and the Patrol Boys with gifts, and Donald Wolford, captain of the Patrol, presented Mr. Boals with a gift from his group.

Following the afternoon's business session, contests were played, with prizes going to Mrs. Richard Burgett, Mrs. Merle Perkeybile, Mrs. Dovenbarger and Mrs. Stafford. Another meeting of the club will be held at the school on March 25.

REPORT WORK.

Announcement was made today of the progress of case work of the Dental Clinic association. There were 19 cases cared for last month, there are six being investigated, and 18 are now being cared for. The next general meeting will be held April 7.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, Feb. 27.

Rather swift-moving events may assist in making this a day of unusual or surprising benefits, probably in a readjustment or reorganization of doubtful matters or a more up-to-date and modern basis. Fresh blood, daring plans, even revolutionary ideas might prove just the impetus crystallized or static conditions require to set in motion a new factor for success and progress.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of some sudden adventure quite unpredictable and unprecedented, and promising definite and surprising progress or promotion. It may be owing to some novel, revolutionary, even spectacular inspiration, invention or brilliant idea, which should prove opportune, workable and desirable either in the field of science, invention, drama, entertainment or romantic adventure.

A child born on this day although being imaginative yet should have much ingenuity and practical skill, which may have surprising culminations and rewards. It should, in such matters, guard against duplicity.

ASHLAND TWINS BORN

ASHLAND—Stephen and Susan Vermilya are the first twins born in 1941 in Samaritan hospital. They were born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Don Vermilya of near Nankin. Stephen weighed four pounds 12½ ounces and Susan weighed five and a quarter pounds.

TOWN IN CANADA SCENE OF WEDDING

Miss Elizabeth Coltart Exchanges Vows With Dr. Wilbur Max Brown Saturday In Home Ceremony.

SIMPLICITY marked the marriage at 3:30 p. m. Feb. 22 of Miss Elizabeth Robertson Coltart to Dr. Wilbur Max Brown at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Shirley M. Holmes, Chatham, Ont. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Coltart, Chatham, Ont., was attired in a beige afternoon frock with brown accessories, and wore a corsage of orchids.

She received her early education in Chatham, and was graduated from Henry Ford hospital in Detroit, Mich., where she was staff nurse.

Dr. Brown is the son of Mrs. William Jesse Brown and the late Mr. Brown of Detroit, Mich. He received his M. D. degree from the University of Arkansas where he was a member of Kappa Alpha. He is a physician and surgeon and practices medicine here.

Mrs. J. L. Wilson played the nuptial music at the piano, and Dr. Scott M. Fulton read the ceremony. The improvised altar was made by banking the fireplace with palms, ferns and pink snapdragons. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Doris Bartholomew, Detroit, was the briesmaid, and Rosemary Hanna, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Miss Bartholomew wore a fuchsia frock with amathyst buttons and brown accessories, and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Hanna was attired in blue taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet. Alfred Evans Brown, Detroit, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A reception for 35 guests was held at the home. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered by a wedding cake and white flowers in silver holders.

For their wedding trip to New York, Mrs. Brown chose a blue green military suit with black accessories. The couple will be at home early next week at 575 Woodhill road.

In addition to the bridegroom's mother and attendants from Detroit, guests were Mrs. Juett Box, Pontiac, Mich., Robert Schlesinger, New York and Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Whitney, Detroit.

HAVE SESSION.

Members of the Current Problems group of the A. A. U. W. met yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. L. Zimmerman, 189 Cline avenue, with Miss Louise Andrews and Miss Mary Henry giving reports on "Hawaii—A Place of Defense In the Western Hemisphere." The next meeting will be held March 11 at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Harry Knox, 488 Edgewood road. Miss Elsie Lockmeyer will have the paper on "Carribean Islands — A Place of Defense In the Western Hemisphere."

Auxiliary Has Dinner at Park

Members of the auxiliary to the Associated Master Barbers of Mansfield served a covered-dish dinner to members of the association last evening in the pavilion at Prospect park. Patriotic appointments decorated the dinner tables.

Mrs. Russell Gimbel of the Friendly House spoke on her work at the settlement house and showed pictures of the activities there. Pinochle and bridge were played at five tables during the remainder of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Ray Ward, Mrs. Clarence Goon, Miss Natalie Normant, John Depue, and Lawrence Caplinger.

Another meeting of the two groups will be held at the pavilion on March 25 at 7:45 p. m. Mrs. Kenneth McClure and Mrs. Caplinger will be the hostesses at that time.
